

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. REPORT

OF THE

Board of Commissioners of Public Charities

OF PENNSYLVANIA,

FOR THE YEAR 1903.

Harrisburg, Jan. 1, 1904.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In accordance with the Act creating the Board of Commissioners of Public Charities, we beg to submit to your honorable bodies report of the operation of the work entrusted to us for the year just closing.

After an inspection of the institutions in our charge, it gives us great pleasure to state that they are generally in a satisfactory condition. As stipulated by the law, these institutions have been visited by our Commissioners at intervals during the year just closed, and specially inspected by our general agent.

The "County Care Act" reflects, we believe, great credit on the Commonwealth, and will prove of lasting benefit both to the unfortunate inmates and to those directing the State's charities. Since the adoption of the act, we note a higher tone in the personnel of the management of the county institutions, and we believe it is possible to give the same supervision and care to the inmates in a county home as in the larger or State institutions.

It is appropos to state just here that, notwithstanding the relief furnished by this act, there was a constant increase in the number of insane in our State Hospitals, and their overcrowded condition demands your most earnest attention.

Under the provisions of an act passed during the Legislature of 1902, His Excellency, the Governor, appointed a commission to secure land, prepare plans, and erect a new hospital for the insane, the same to be conducted under the Homoeopathic school. This Commission have their work well underway, having selected a site near Allentown in Lehigh county. Previous to the passage of this act, all the institutions for the care of the insane were under Allopathic management.

We regret to have to again call attention to the fact that no provision has been made for the detention, separate care and treatment of the criminal insane. We have previously called attention to it in our reports, and, while our suggestions have not inspired your honorable bodies to action, we feel that we would be doing less than our whole duty if we did not again place this matter before you. The question is one that appeals to your Commissioners with special force. Seeing, as we do almost daily, the great need of an institution for this class of mentally defective persons, we respectfully repeat that, in our belief, the condition of this class of unfortunates demands that we provide an institution suitable for their care and treatment. This could be done without great cost to the Commonwealth.

In our report of two years ago, we advised a change in the Penal Laws, and the provision of such an insane asylum for the criminal class of defective or alleged defective mentality, and by such provision remove, to a great degree, the incentive to plead insanity as an excuse for criminal acts. It is our belief that the criminal of unsound mind is not a proper subject for the penal institutions as such institutions now exist and are maintained. Neither is he a fit subject for detention in the hospital or asylum provided for the insane, his presence being a menace to those about him. We now appeal that steps be taken to provide some institution, and make such change as is necessary in the Penal Code to meet this condition, and, when it is done, we shall feel that this Commonwealth has taken a position in the front rank in providing for the care of all its delinquent, defective and dependent classes.

Reverting again to our former reports on the subject of jails, we are glad to note some improvement in this class of institutions. We are, however, far from perfect. Nevertheless, we will hope that our continued demands for improvement will bear fruit, and that marked improvement will be reported in our future reports.

Believing it will be of interest to you, we append herewith a tabulated statement prepared by one of our Commissioners, giving the disbursements for charities of this Commonwealth for 55 years. A glance at these figures will be the most direct answer to the question as to whether or not the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has treated liberally the various institutions conducted under State aid. Beginning in 1850 with $134,934.39, we reach the enormous figure of $9,328,822.75 for the biennial period of 1903-5.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCIS J. TORRANCE.

President.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL AGENT AND SECRETARY.

To the Board of Public Charities of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: Little remains to be said in addition to that which has heretofore been stated concerning the management and condition of the penal and charitable institutions of the State. No new statutes of any great importance have been enacted by the Legislature, and, with but few exceptions, no changes of any consequence have taken place in these institutions.

One subject, however, demands serious consideration. In 1870, the year after the creation of this Board, six State institutions and ten semi-State and private institutions applied to this Board for recommendation for State aid. In response to these appeals, the Legislature granted to the State institutions $22,355.26, and to the semi-State and private institutions $173,000, making a total of $395,355.26, for the year 1870. At the last session of the Legislature, for the two years beginning June 1st, 1903, 20 State institutions and 196 semi-State and private institutions received State aid, aggregating $9,328,822.75. This increase vastly exceeds the proportionate increase in population during the period since 1870. Aid was granted last year to 35 institutions in addition to the number aided at the previous session of the Legislature. Such increase in the amount appropriated to institutions is steadily and rapidly going on.

At the last session of the Legislature, an appropriation was made to enable the Commissioners appointed to erect the Hospital for the Insane under Homœopathic management to complete a portion of the buildings contemplated by the Act creating this commission. The site selected in Lehigh county for this institution, and the plans for the buildings to be erected thereon, having been approved by this Board, it is hoped that the institution will soon be ready for occupancy. This, with the provision made by various counties, will give adequate accommodation for the insane of the State.

Another act passed at the last session of the Legislature provided for the erection in Northeastern Pennsylvania of a State institution for the care of the epileptic and the feeble-minded. Unfortunately, owing to the anticipated deficiency in the finances of the State, the Governor felt constrained to reduce the appropriation made to this institution to $50,000, an amount insufficient to do more than purchase the site. The commission appointed under this act has not yet made a report to this Board. The large number of this class existing in the Commonwealth would justify the erection of an institution for the exclusive care of epileptics. In this respect Pennsylvania has been far behind most of the larger States of the Union, which dereliction of its duty it is hoped will not long continue to exist.

During the past year, the most important change made in the management of our State institutions has been in the Eastern Penitentiary at Philadelphia, Mr. Joseph P. Byers, of Ohio, having been selected to take the place of Mr. Daniel W. Bussinger as warden of that institution. Mr. Byers's high personal character and wide experience in work of this character justify the hope that the adverse criticism of the management of this institution, to which it has lately been subjected, is now a thing of the past.

The provision made for the care and instruction of the deaf and dumb and the blind could not be better, and reflects great credit on the superintendents and the managers of the institutions to which they are committed.

The same may be said of the reformatory institutions of the State. Those at Glen Mills and Morganza are model institutions of their kind.

The Eastern and Western Penitentiaries and the Huntingdon Reformatory exhibit well the different methods prevailing in this State for the care of convicts. At the Huntingdon Reformatory, no products of the labor of the prisoners are offered for sale outside of the walls; but every facility is granted to enable the inmates to be thoroughly instructed in all the trades. A visit to this institution is most instructive and gratifying.

The one great blot on the escutcheon of the State is the manner in which we allow the great majority of our county jails to be conducted. This is the more surprising in view of the fact that we have within our own borders several counties whose jails are model institutions, unsurpassed by the best penitentiaries. Most of the county jails are mere schools for crime, and their condition demands immediate attention.

No step has yet been taken to provide proper accommodations for the convict insane. This subject should have prompt consideration, and, with the improved financial condition of the Commonwealth, another session of the Legislature ought not to pass without proper provision for this class.

The work already accomplished under the act creating juvenile courts has been most gratifying. The system is an innovation, and requires time for its thorough adjustment. It is, however, a grand advance in the right direction, and great good must result from its establishment.

In the care of children, the praise heretofore accorded to the Children's Aid Societies, and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty, needs no abatement. They are doing a grand work in an admirable manner.

No State provides a greater number of more thoroughly equipped and better managed hospitals for the care of the sick and wounded. It is said at times that they are too numerous, but many a life which would otherwise have been sacrificed has been saved by the ready relief here afforded.

I must again make mention of the satisfactory manner in which the duties of our clerical force have uniformly been performed. Any success that has attended our efforts has been largely due to their willing discharge of such duties.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

WESTERN PENITENTIARY.

Visited November 9, 1903, by Mr. Torrance and Dr. King.

Spent the afternoon inspecting this institution, finding it in excellent condition. The general health was good; there were a few cases in the hospital; none serious. The discipline in this institution is remarkably good. There is only one comment we have to make, and that is about the congregate dining-room. It has often struck me that, in a dining-room such as this, with several hundred men together, and only the usual proportion of guards, it would be an easy matter for them to attack the guards, using the benches or stools on which they sit. Of course, the revolt could not amount to a great deal in this Penitentiary; that is, as far as the wholesale delivery of prisoners is concerned, because the dining-room is in a building situated in the yard, and men could not get out through the main building or over the walls, because they are safely guarded. At the same time I think it would be well that some sort of stool or bench fastened to the floor, and immovable, as far as the prisoner was concerned, should be used. I have made this suggestion to Warden Johnson. The Warden has inaugurated some decided improvements since his term of office began, and the institution is really in very creditable shape. The women's prison is neat, clean and orderly, as usual. A new cement floor in the south wing of the prison is a decided improvement. We note an appreciable increase in the colored population in this prison, as well as in several others that we have recently visited.

THE WESTERN PENITENTIARY.

Mr. William M. C. Johnson, Warden.

Visited July 20, 1903, by Dr. M'Leod and Mr. Biddle.

Seven hundred and sixty-nine prisoners, 21 of whom were women, were confined in this institution at the time of this visit. The building was in excellent order, reflecting credit on the Inspectors and Warden. The shops in which are many of the prisoners are equipped with appropriate machinery, without requiring steam appliances. It is a model institution of its class.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE REFORMATORY.

T. B. Patton, Superintendent.

Visited July 16, 1903, by Dr. M'Leod and Mr. Biddle.

Five hundred and forty prisoners were, at the time of this visit confined in this Reformatory. The management is altogether admirable. Shops, well equipped, are provided, in which the young men are thoroughly taught all of the important handicrafts.

Nothing is manufactured for sale. A visit to its several departments is most interesting. The institution is well worthy of commendation.

PENNSYLVANIA REFORM SCHOOL.

Washington County.

Mr. Jerome A. Quay, Superintendent.

Visited July 21, 1904, by Dr. M'Leod and Mr. Biddle.

610 children were inmates of this institution at the time of this visit. The boys' department is divided into 6 families, occupying 5 buildings. The girls, fewer in number than the boys, occupy one building.

In addition to the dormitory buildings are several shops and one hospital building.

The institution is admirably managed, and every provision made whereby the inmates may be so instructed that they may lead useful lives and earn honest livings.

It is well worthy of commendation.

ALLEGHENY WORK-HOUSE.

Mr. Hill, Superintendent.

Visited July 21, 1904, by Dr. M'Leod and Mr. Biddle.

In this institution, at the time of this visit, 1,027 inmates, 133 of whom were women, were imprisoned.

Unfortunately, under the law, many of the inmates were not provided with work.

The buildings were in perfect order, and every facility was provided for keeping those committed to it in good condition.

It is well managed in every respect.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' HOME.

Erie.

Visited August 3d, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This beautiful and most attractive Home, situated on the shore of Lake Erie, had, at the time of this visit, 485 inmates, ten per cent. of whom were sailors.

New conservatories and greenhouses have been erected during the past year.

It is equipped with every convenience to provide for the comfort of these aged men, and will compare most favorably with like institutions provided for such purposes by the general government.

STATE HOSPITAL FOR INJURED PERSONS OF THE ANTHRACITE COAL REGIONS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Ashland, Fountain Springs P. O., Schuylkill County.

Dr. J. C. Biddle, Superintendent.

Visited October 14 and 15 by Mr. Biddle.

This hospital does a grand work. The average number of patients during July, August and September was 139. It was not intended that its wards should accommodate half of this number. New buildings are approaching completion, which will add greatly to its usefulness. It was in excellent condition, and the record of the cures here effected is unsurpassed by that of any other hospital. It is an admirable institution.

STATE HOSPITAL FOR THE MIDDLE COAL FIELD.

Hazleton.

Dr. Walter Lathrop, Superintendent.

Visited August 11, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

In the wards of this hospital, 40 patients were receiving treatment at the time of this visit. A new laundry building has recently been erected. The building was in good order, and is equipped with every appliance whereby the inmates may receive the best and most modern care.

STATE HOSPITAL FOR NORTHERN ANTHRACITE COAL REGIONS.

Scranton, Lackawanna County.

Visited August 10, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred beds for patients are provided in this hospital, 72 of which were occupied at the time of this visit. Much of the building is old, and not well adapted for hospital work. The management hope to be able to tear this part down, and construct on its site modern buildings. A good work is here accomplished.

STATE HOSPITAL FOR INJURED PERSONS OF THE BITUMINOUS COAL REGIONS.

No. 1, Blossburg.

Visited July 29, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Thirty beds for patients are provided by this hospital, fourteen of them being occupied at this time. The building was in good order. It should have a modern sterilizer, which it now lacks. It does a good work in this community.

No. 2, Mercer, Mercer County.

Visited July 29, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

In this hospital, at the time of this visit, 23 patients were receiving treatment.

A new dining-room and kitchen are to be constructed. The building was in excellent condition and very tidy.

No. 3, Connellsville, Fayette County.

Visited July 28, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Thirty-seven patients were at this time under treatment in this hospital. It had at one time during the past year as many as 50. The exterior requires repainting. It has done and is doing an excellent work for this community.

No. 4, Phillipsburg, Centre County.

Visited September 4, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Twenty-four beds for patients are provided in this hospital, 8 of which were occupied at the time of this visit. It was in admirable order, entitling the Superintendent to commendation.

STATE HOSPITALS FOR THE INSANE.

Harrisburg, Dauphin County.

Visited July 14, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, 900 patients were under treatment in the wards.

The buildings are situated on attractive grounds, and are well kept, and filled with every appliance for the welfare of the inmates. It was a most satisfactory visit.

Warren, Warren County.

Visited August 3, 1903, by Mr. Boyle, Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One thousand and sixty men and women were cared for most satisfactorily in the large hospital at the time of this visit. The buildings were in thorough order, betokening most competent and attentive management.

HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.

Dixmont.

Visited November, 1903, by Mr. Torrance and Dr. King.

We found this institution in excellent order. The recommendations which we made in regard to the dining-rooms, pantries, clothes-rooms, toilet-rooms, etc., have been carried out. Most of this work, has been completed, and the rest is in progress. We were there on the occasion of the monthly dance, which is conducted in the chapel of the institution, quite a number of the inmates taking part, and apparently enjoying it greatly. The Doctor is to be commended for this plan, and also for other interesting features which alleviate the condition of his unfortunate patients. It would be a great improvement if electric lights could be used throughout this entire institution.

Danville, Mountour County.

Visited February 4, 1903, by Mr. Ryon, and August 7, 1903, by Mr. Ryon, Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One thousand, one hundred and fifteen inmates were receiving treatment in the wards of this hospital at the time of the latter visit. The inspection was entirely satisfactory. The buildings were in excellent condition, and the patients gave evidence of kind and judicious treatment.

Norristown, Montgomery County.

Visited June 4, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, the commencement of the nurses' graduating class was being held. The institution is well equipped and managed. The commencement exercises were most interesting.

Dixmont, Allegheny County.

Visited July 20, 1903, by Dr. McLeod, and Mr. Biddle and at sundry times by Mr. Torrence and Dr. King.

Eight hundred and seventy-five patients were occupants of the wards of this hospital.

It was in thoroughly good order, and merited commendation.

STATE ASYLUM FOR THE CHRONIC INSANE.

Wernersville, South Mountain, Berks County.

Visited August 13, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Eight hundred and two patients were, at the time of this visit, inmates of this institution. It is admirably well managed, and every comfort is given to the patients. The inspection was very satisfactory.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY WORKHOUSE.

Situated at Claremont.

Visited November, 1903, by Mr. Torrance and Dr. King.

Mr. William Hill, Superintendent.

We visited this institution, making a general inspection, and found it in satisfactory shape. We have no comments or suggestions to make, except in regard to the floors in the old cell-houses, and some of the other older buildings. We have recommended to Superintendent Hill that a cement covering put down over the stones would be advisable, and it would make the place cleaner, and much easier to keep clean. These floors are about thirty years old, and naturally show some wear. In addition to this, the stone used was soft flagging, and in many places it is worn out, cracked or broken. The health of the prisoners is exceptionally good. On the male side, three prisoners are in the hospital for mild ailments, and, on the woman's side, there are no patients in the hospital. The third floor of the hospital, used for tuberculosis, has no patients at all. It must be borne in mind that, under the Muhlbronner bill, only a limited number of inmates can be worked at manual labor. This restriction requires close attention to the diet and exercise of the prisoners. The Superintendent is to be commended for vigilant care. His plan of vegetable diet, to which we have several times referred other institutions, is worthy of emulation. He gives practically fresh vegetables to his inmates all the year round. The institution throughout was clean and neat, and no adverse criticism can be made.

COUNTY JAILS.

ADAMS COUNTY.—Jail situated at Gettysburg. Visited July 11, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This small jail was in good order, and thoroughly clean at the time of this visit. Women are kept in cells entirely apart from the section occupied by men. Twelve prisoners, one a woman, were here held at the time of this visit.

BEAVER COUNTY.—Jail situated at Beaver. Visited July 28, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Thirty-one prisoners were confined in this jail at the time of this visit. Little can be said in favor of the building. It is very old and insecure. It was clean at this time, and reflected credit on the Sheriff, who has charge of it.

BEDFORD COUNTY.—Jail situated at Bedford. Visited July 15, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Five persons, two of whom were women, were occupants of this building at the time of this visit.

It was in perfect order, and it is so constructed that the different classes committed to it may be separated.

The visit was satisfactory.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY.—Jail situated at Pittsburg. Visited July 22, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Two hundred and eighty-eight persons were confined in this large jail at the time of this visit.

The building is a substantial stone structure, connected with the Court-rooms by a bridge which passes over the street. It was in perfect order throughout. The cost of conducting it has been reduced until, during the past year, it amounted to only 4.6 cents a day for each prisoner.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY.—Jail situated at Pittsburg. Visited October 2, 1903, by Mr. Torrance.

I have paid two visits within the past ten days to Allegheny County Jail, and found it in excellent condition. The improvements being made to provide for children under the Juvenile Court Act will be, to my mind, a most admirable adjustment. They will be completed within the next few days. Separate bath and toilet rooms and every provision for safety, sanitation and cleanliness have been provided. It will be, in my opinion, a model for other jails in the State to follow.

BERKS COUNTY.—Jail situated at Reading. Visited August 11, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Seventy-five prisoners, five of whom were women, were occupants of this jail at the time of this visit. Fifty-five of these were required to work. Looms are provided on which carpets and prison clothing are made.

The building was very clean and in good order. It is in charge of a warden.

BLAIR COUNTY.—Jail situated at Hollidaysburg. Visited July 17, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Seventy-one prisoners, five of whom were women, were occupants of this jail at this time. The building was in good order, with the exception of the heating apparatus. This required repairing.

BRADFORD COUNTY.—Jail situated at Towanda. Visited August 27, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Sixteen prisoners were confined in this jail at the time of this visit. The building was very clean and in good order. Women occupy cells adjoining those used for men, the latter being allowed to congregate in idleness in the corridor.

BUTLER COUNTY.—Jail situated at Butler. Visited September 3, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Nineteen prisoners, all of whom were men, were occupants of this jail at the time of this visit. Six of these were employed on the grounds at the County Poor House. The jail is a strong structure, and it was in fair condition.

CAMBRIA COUNTY.—Jail situated at Ebensburg. Visited July 16, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Ninety-one prisoners, four of whom were women, were occupants of this jail at the time of this visit. The section in which the men are confined has 28 cells, in two tiers, on one corridor. The women are provided for in a section entirely separated from the one used for men. It was in perfect condition. Every place was thoroughly clean, entitling those in charge to praise.

CAMERON COUNTY.—Jail situated at Emporium. Visited August 31, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Three prisoners were occupants of this small jail at the time of this visit. It is not a secure jail, and will soon, on account of the increase in population, have to be abandoned, and a more modern building provided. The prisoners are well and kindly treated.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY.—Jail situated at Clearfield. Visited September 3, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle. This jail was undergoing repairs at the time of this visit. It was about the worst jail in the State, and it will require rebuilding before it can be commended. It is to be hoped that it may be much improved.

It held twenty-one prisoners at the time of this visit.

CHESTER COUNTY.—Jail situated at West Chester. Visited October 2, 1903, by Dr. Mitchell and Mr. Biddle.

This is one of the very best county jails in the State. It held at the time of this visit 52 prisoners.

Looms are provided on which carpets and prison clothing are made. Brooms are also made and chairs caned.

A good library supplies the prisoners with suitable reading matter.

The women are thoroughly separated from the men. It is a model institution of its kind, and it was in admirable order at the time of this visit.

CENTRE COUNTY JAIL.—Jail situated at Bellefonte. Visited August 6, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This jail was in excellent condition at the time of this visit. It was very clean, and the prisoners looked tidy. They consisted of eight men.

CLINTON COUNTY.—Jail situated at Lock Haven. Visited August 6, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Sixteen prisoners were confined in this jail at the time of this visit. The upper floor was dry and in fair condition. The cells on the lower floor were damp. The prisoners are well and kindly treated.

COLUMBIA COUNTY.—Jail situated at Bloomsburg. Visited August 7, 1903, by Mr. Ryon and Mr. Biddle.

Eight prisoners occupied this jail at the time of this visit. It consists of 24 cells, in two tiers, on one corridor. Women occupy cells adjoining those occupied by men. No provision for separating minors is made. It was in fair condition.

CRAWFORD COUNTY.—Jail situated at Meadville. Visited August 1, 1903, by Mr. Boyle, Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Nothing can be said in favor of this jail except that it was as clean as it could be kept. The building is thoroughly bad, and unfit for the confinement of human beings. The Sheriff deserves great credit for keeping it in such good condition. Eleven persons, all men, were confined in it at the time of this visit.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY.—Jail situated at Carlisle. Visited July 13, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Ten persons, two of whom were women, were occupants of this jail at the time of this visit.

The building was clean and in good order. Tramps are held in the basement apart from the other prisoners.

A separate section is provided for women. No work is required to be done.

DAUPHIN COUNTY.—Jail situated at Harrisburg. Visited July 14, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Two hundred and two prisoners were held in this jail at the time of this visit, 22 of whom were women. The large steel jail was in perfect order. It contains 150 cells, and admits of judicious separation of the prisoners.

ELK COUNTY.—Jail situated at Ridgway. Visited August 5, 1903, by Mr. Boyle, Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This is a good jail, and should be kept in perfect order. It was not very clean at the time of this visit. It has separate apartments for men and women, in each of which is a good hospital room. It is secure.

ERIE COUNTY.—Jail situated at Erie. Visited August 3, 1904, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This is an excellent jail of its class. It has three entirely separate sections, enabling the sexes to be kept apart, as well as the minors. The male department is again subdivided into six sections. There were 41 prisoners, 3 of whom were women, at the time of this visit. It was in perfect order.

FAYETTE COUNTY.—Jail situated at Uniontown. Visited July 27, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Seventy prisoners were occupants of this jail at the time of this visit. The building is modern and strong. The men are allowed to congregate in the corridor, and pass the time in idleness. The women are held in a section entirely apart from the one used for men. The building was in good condition.

FOREST COUNTY.—Jail situated at Tionesta. Visited July 30, 1903, by Mr. Biddle and Dr. McLeod.

But one prisoner was confined in this jail at the time of this visit. The building is small, but on its two floors has accommodations whereby the men and women can be separated. It was in excellent condition.

FRANKLIN COUNTY.—Jail situated at Chambersburg. Visited July 13, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Twenty-one prisoners were confined in this jail at this time. They are not required to do any work. Tramps are held in the old jail, not in company with other prisoners. Women occupy one side of the jail apart from the men. The building was in fair condition.

GREENE COUNTY.—Jail situated at Waynesburg. Visited July 24, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

No prisoners were confined in this jail at the time of this visit. The building is so constructed that the prisoners may be well separated. It was in good order.

HUNTINGDON COUNTY.—Jail situated at Huntingdon. Visited July 16, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Seventeen prisoners were occupants of this jail at this time. The building is very old, and not adapted for a jail. It was in excellent order. A room in the Sheriff's house enables women to be well separated from men.

JUNIATA COUNTY.—Jail situated at Mifflin. Visited September 4, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This is a very old jail. The cells are very large and secure. It is not like a modern jail, but provides safe accommodations for the few persons it is required to hold. It was very clean. No prisoners were in it at this time.

JEFFERSON COUNTY.—Jail situated at Brookville. Visited September 2, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Eleven prisoners were occupants of this jail at the time of this visit. The steel cells were very untidy, and indicated indifferent management. Little can be said in commendation of this jail.

LACKAWANNA COUNTY.—Jail situated at Scranton. Visited August 10, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

In this large jail, 128 prisoners were confined at the time of this visit. The women are kept in a section apart from the men. The building is well heated, ventilated and lighted. It was in admirable order. Thirty-five of the men were at work outside for the county. It is in charge of a warden.

LANCASTER COUNTY.—Jail situated at Lancaster. Visited July 10, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Ninety prisoners were occupants of this jail at the time of this visit, 4 of whom were women. The building was thoroughly clean. Many of the prisoners are employed in weaving carpets, etc. Tramps are confined in a separate building. The visit was entirely satisfactory.

LEHIGH COUNTY.—Jail situated at Allentown. Visited August 22, 1903, by Mr. Biddle and Dr. McLeod.

Eighty prisoners were confined in this jail at the time of this visit. Several looms are provided on which carpets and prison clothing are made. The jail was very clean and in excellent condition. It is presided over by a warden. A library furnishes good reading for the inmates. Women occupy cells adjoining those occupied by men. In other respects it is an admirable jail.

LAWRENCE COUNTY.—Jail situated at New Castle. Visited July 29, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Thirty-five prisoners, one of whom was a woman, were confined in this building at the time of this visit. It has no yard. The building is divided into four sections, enabling the Sheriff to separate the women and children from the men. It was only in fair condition and little can be said in its favor.

LEBANON COUNTY.—Jail situated at Lebanon. Visited October 14, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

Nine prisoners were occupants of this jail at the time of this visit.

It has 40 cells, separated into four distinct compartments, so that the inmates may be judiciously separated.

It is heated by hot air, and lighted by candles. It was in good condition. The prisoners are not required to work, except to keep the jail clean.

LUZERNE COUNTY.—Jail situated at Wilkes-Barre. Visited August 8, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Ninety-nine prisoners, two of whom were women, were occupants of this jail at the time of this visit. The building was in good order and very clean. The prisoners are kept in the cells, but can exercise in the yards. No work is done, with the exception of cleaning the jail and cooking.

LYCOMING COUNTY.—Jail situated at Williamsport. Visited August 6, 1903, by Mr. Ryon, Mr. Biddle and Dr. McLeod.

This jail was in good condition at the time of this visit. It does not, however, admit of a proper separation of the sexes, or of minors.

It held 50 prisoners at the time of this visit, one of whom was a woman.

M'KEAN COUNTY.—Jail situated at Smetlport. Visited September 4, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Sixteen prisoners, three of whom were women, were confined in this jail at the time of this visit. It is an excellent jail. The female department is entirely separate from the male department. The jail was thoroughly clean and in good order.

MERCER COUNTY.—Jail situated at Mercer. Visited July 29, 1903, by Doctor McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Six prisoners, two of whom were women, were confined in this jail at the time of this visit.

Workmen were engaged in remodeling the building, not, however, before it required it. It is to be hoped that the new structure will be an improvement over the old one.

MIFFLIN COUNTY.—Jail situated at Lewistown. Visited September 4, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Eight prisoners were occupants of this jail at the time of this visit. Too many pictures adorned the walls of the cells, and too much wood was piled in the yard.

MONROE COUNTY.—Jail situated at Stroudsburg. Jail visited August 24, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Twenty cells are provided in a stone building for prisoners by this county. None of them was occupied at the time of this visit. The house was in good order.

MONTOUR COUNTY.—Jail situated at Danville. Visited August 7, 1903, by Mr. Ryon and Mr. Biddle.

Only one prisoner was confined in this jail at the time of this visit. The building is a brick structure, two stories in height. On these floors goods cells are provided, so arranged as to allow ample separation of the sexes, as well as of minors. It is an admirable jail, kept in excellent order.

NORTHAMPTON COUNTY.—Jail situated at Easton. Visited August 22, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

In this good jail, 56 prisoners, one of whom was a woman, were confined at the time of this visit. Looms are provided on which carpets and prison clothing are made. A library furnishes the inmates with good reading matter. The building was clean and in excellent order. No separate section is provided for women. In all other respects it is an admirable jail.

NORTHUMBERLAND COUNTY.—Jail situated at Sunbury. Visited August 7, 1903, by Mr. Ryon, Mr. Biddle and Dr. McLeod.

Forty-six prisoners, five of whom were women, were occupants of this jail at the time of this visit. It is in charge of a warden. Several looms upon which carpets and prison clothing are made give occupation to many convicts. It was in excellent condition.

PIKE COUNTY.—Jail situated at Milford. Visited August 24, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Three prisoners were occupants of this small jail at the time of this visit. A cell on the lower floor would be used for women, if any were committed to it. For several years past none have been so committed. The jail was clean and the prisoners were kindly treated.

POTTER COUNTY.—Jail situated at Coudersport. Visited September 30, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

Seven prisoners, all of whom were men, were occupants of this stone jail at the time of this visit.

The jail was not secure, and not in good condition. No separate sections are provided for women or minors.

SCHUYLKILL COUNTY.—Jail situated at Pottsville. Visited August 11, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, on August 11, 1903, 146 prisoners, 4 of whom were women, were occupants of this jail. The prisoners are kept in cells, and given exercise in the jail yard. The building was clean and in good condition. It is in charge of a warden.

SOMERSET COUNTY.—Jail situated at Somerset. Visited July 18, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Ten prisoners, one of them a girl, were occupants of this jail at this time. The building was in good order, and it is so constructed that the inmates may be properly separated.

SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY.—Jail situated at Montrose. Visited August 26, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Ten prisoners, one of them a woman, and one a boy, were here confined at the time of this visit. The building, on the side of a hill, is apparently secure, but is dark and damp. The prisoners are allowed to congregate in the corridor, and pass the time in idleness.

TIOGA COUNTY.—Jail situated at Wellsboro. Visited August 28, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Six men were confined in this jail at the time of this visit. Four separate steel compartments are provided, which enable the prisoners to be well separated. The jail was in excellent order and clean.

VENANGO COUNTY.—Jail situated at Franklin. Visited July 30, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This jail is disgraceful to the county and the State. It is dirty, dark and dismal, and unfit for human habitation. Rats, lice and cockroaches here find a fit abode. Sixteen prisoners, all of whom were men, were confined in it at the time of this visit.

WARREN COUNTY.—Jail situated at Warren. Visited August 3, 1903, by Mr. Boyle, Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, five prisoners, one a woman, were occupants of this jail. It is insecure. The county is about to remodel the building, and make it suitable for the purpose for which it was erected. It has no yard.

WAYNE COUNTY.—Jail situated at Honesdale. Visited August 25, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Five prisoners were occupants of this jail at this time. Ten cells are provided, two of them being for women. The building was clean and in good order.

WESTMORELAND COUNTY.—Jail situated at Greensburg. Visited July 27, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

In this large jail, 120 prisoners were held at the time of this visit. The section provided for women is apart from the other sections. The building was in good order. No work is required to be done by the prisoners.

WYOMING COUNTY.—Jail situated at Tunkhannock. Visited August 27, 1903, by Mr. Biddle and Dr. McLeod.

Three men were occupants of this small jail at the time of this visit. The building was clean and in good order. The prisoners are fed from the Sheriff's table and have what he has. They probably live better than they ever did before.

YORK COUNTY.—Jail situated at York. Visited July 11, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Sixty-one prisoners were confined in the 38 cells provided by this county in its jail.

Women occupy cells on the same corridor as those used for men.

The building was very insecure. No night watchman is employed.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.—Jail situated at Washington. Visited July 23, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This jail is a large modern stone structure, into which all improvements have been introduced.

It held 52 prisoners, 6 of whom were women, at the time of this visit. It has an electric plant, which supplies light and power to the Court house, as well as the prison. The building was in good order.

The male prisoners are required to work on the public roads.

ALMSHOUSES.

ADAMS COUNTY.

Situated at Gettysburg.

Visited July 11, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Four good brick buildings are provided by this county for the care of its indigent poor and insane.

They were in good condition, especially the one in which the insane reside. A man and his wife attend to this class. There is no resident physician. At the time of our visit, it held 87 inmates, 47 of whom were insane.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

Allegheny County Home.

Situated at Woodville.

Visited July 21, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This is an altogether excellent institution.

The buildings provided for the aged and decrepid are well suited for the wants of these classes, while the new insane department compares favorably with the most modern structures erected for this special class.

The number of inmates, at the time of this visit, was 638, 358 of whom were insane.

A physician resides in the building, and has a large number of trained nurses to care for the inmates.

Allegheny City Home.

Situated at Claremont.

Visited November, 1903, by Mr. Torrance and Dr. King.

We inspected this institution carefully, giving particular attention to the two new buildings, one for male and one for female patients. These two buildings are modern in their construction, built especially for the purpose they are used. They are well ventilated, bright, cheerful, and a decided contrast in this respect to the older buildings to which they are attached. The entire institution was clean and orderly. The patients seemed remarkably contented in both the insane department and the Poorhouse. Major Hunker, who has been for so many years in charge of the place, shows remarkable intimacy with the institution and the personnel as well; calls every patient by name, and knows his or her history. In our opinion, this is valuable and essential to the best management of an institution, particularly one for the care of the mentally defective.

Allegheny City Home.

Situated at Claremont.

Visited July 22, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Three hundred and eighty-six persons, 209 of whom were insane, were inmates of this institution at the time of this visit.

No better conducted institution can anywhere be found. It is in all of its departments a model of cleanliness. The poor and aged receive good food and every attention. A resident physician is provided. The new insane department has every provision which the most modern science suggests. Major Hunker has had long experience, and is well fitted for the Superintendency.

Pittsburg City Farm.

Situated at Marshalsea.

Visited July 23, 1903, by Mr. Boyle, Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Eight hundred and thirty-five persons, 478 of whom were insane, were occupants of this institution at the time of this visit.

The city of Pittsburg has provided well and liberally for these unfortunates. The buildings are new, and have every appliance for the well-being and comfort of the inmates. The insane occupy two special buildings, one for men, the other for women, and are attended by resident physicians and trained nurses. The buildings throughout are scrupulously clean. It is an excellent institution.

BEDFORD COUNTY ALMSHOUSE.

Situated three miles from Bedford.

Visited July 15, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Seventy-five persons were inmates of this institution at the time of this visit, 18 of whom were insane, and kept in a separate one-story brick building. The place was in only passable condition. More attendants are required, especially for the insane. A competent steward for this department, with a good wife, is imperatively demanded, and should at once be secured.

BERKS COUNTY ALMSHOUSE.

Situated two miles from Reading.

Visited August 12, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

In two large buildings, on a farm of 514 acres of land, 235 persons were inmates at the time of this visit. Too great praise cannot be given for the manner in which this institution is conducted. It is kept in perfect order. The farm is a model one. It well repays a visit.

BLAIR COUNTY ALMSHOUSE.

Situated one mile from Hollidaysburg.

Visited July 17, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

About 200 persons, one-half of whom are insane, were inmates of this institution at the time of this visit.

The Superintendent, Mr. Bridenbaugh, and his wife are well adapted to be in charge of such an institution. The building is to be enlarged in the near future, some additions being needed to the present structure. It now affords a good home for those whose condition requires them to seek its shelter.

BEAVER COUNTY HOME.

Situated three miles from Beaver.

Visited July 28, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Forty persons, one of whom was insane, and four of whom were feeble-minded, were inmates of this home at the time of this visit. The house was clean, but the furniture and bedding were old and untidy. The inmates gave every appearance of being happy and contented.

BRADFORD COUNTY ALMSHOUSE.

Situated eleven miles from Towanda.

Visited August 28, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and ten persons, 35 of whom were insane, were occupants of this home at the time of this visit. The main building is old, and much in need of new floors. The beds and bedding should also be renewed, while the whole building would be benefited by having a coat of paint. The inmates are well fed and kindly treated.

BUTLER COUNTY ALMSHOUSE.

Situated one mile from Butler.

Visited September 3, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This new poorhouse is in admirable condition. The building is well designed, and is kept clean and in good order. At the time of this visit, it held 52 inmates. Prisoners are sent from the jail to work on the grounds. It was a most satisfactory visit. Mr. Joseph Graham is the Steward.

CAMBRIA COUNTY ALMSHOUSE.

Situated one mile from Ebensburg.

Visited July 16, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and five persons were provided for, at the time of this visit, in this institution. The buildings are good, and fitted with everything necessary to make the inmates comfortable.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, who have charge here, are capable and kind, and see that no inmate is allowed to suffer unnecessarily.

CHESTER COUNTY HOME.

Situated at Embreeville, seven miles from West Chester.

Visited October 2, 1903, by Dr. McLeod, Dr. Mitchell and Mr. Biddle.

Three hundred and eighty-eight persons were inmates of this institution at the time of this visit. Of these, 199 were in the insane department. Too much cannot be said in praise of the institution. Every comfort is provided to make the declining years of those who have to seek its shelter contented.

The insane department is altogether admirable. Doctor Baker has charge of it, and it is well supplied with a corps of trained nurses.

It is equal in efficiency to any similar institution.

CENTRE COUNTY.

Bellefonte Poorhouse.

Situated in Bellefonte.

Visited August 6, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

In an old and comfortable private residence, with ample grounds surrounding it, the few poor of this town here find a most comfortable home. It had 6 occupants at the time of this visit.

CARBON COUNTY.

Middle Coal Field Poorhouse.

Situated five miles from Weatherly.

Visited August 11, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and eighty inmates, 53 of whom were insane, were occupants of this home at the time of this visit. On a large farm, two substantial buildings are provided for the inmates. A trained nurse, Miss Moulder, is employed to care for the insane and sick patients. It is a well-managed institution, in which the residents of the neighborhood are much interested.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated one mile from Clearfield.

Visited September 3, 1903, by Mr. Biddle and Dr. McLeod.

This comparatively new building is already much out of repair.

It requires painting and plastering. The floors need repairs, and likewise the windows. It held at the time of this visit 125 aged inmates.

CLINTON COUNTY.

Lock Haven Poorhouse.

Visited August 6, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Thirteen aged inmates are comfortably cared for in this institution. It has a good vegetable garden, and two German people have charge of the people, house and grounds. It is very well managed.

CRAWFORD COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated six miles from Meadville.

Visited August 3, 1903, by Mr. Boyle, Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Ninety-three persons were inmates of this institution at the time of this visit. The house is very old, and not fitted with modern appliances. It was only fairly tidy. Usually good bread is found in Pennsylvania institutions, but such was not the case here. More complaining than is usual was heard from the inmates.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated one mile from Carlisle.

Visited July 13, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This institution was in only fair condition. The cellar of the hospital building was far from being tidy, many of the rooms being filled with rubbish. The absence of the nurses was also noticeable, all of them having gone to Carlisle at the same time, leaving the patients in the care of untried persons. At the time of this visit, it held 147 inmates, 99 of whom were insane.

DAUPHIN COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated three miles from Harrisburg.

Visited April 24, 1903, by Mr. Ryon and Mr. Biddle.

This home was in excellent order. Owing to complaints of ill treatment on the part of an officer, which had reached us, a thorough investigation was instituted, resulting in a recommendation made to the Poor Board to remove the official. This was done, and there has been no further trouble. The institution is always clean and in good order.

ELK COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated one mile from St. Mary's.

Visited August 5, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, 58 persons were inmates of this home, 26 of whom were insane.

This building is comparatively new, and is well constructed, having all modern appliances for the comfort of the inmates. They all seemed to be comfortable and happy.

FOREST COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated four miles from Tionesta.

Visited July 30, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Eleven aged persons were occupants of this home at the time of this visit.

The house was in excellent condition, it being clean in every part, and the inmates looked contented.

ERIE COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated two miles from Erie.

Visited August 3, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and seventy-four persons, 20 of whom were insane, were occupants of this home at this time. The building was in good condition. A new boiler-house outside of the building has lately been erected. The visit was satisfactory.

FAYETTE COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated two miles from Uniontown.

Visited October 22, 1903, by Mr. S. E. Gill.

I made an inspection of the county home at Uniontown, Fayette county, and beg to report as follows:

The house seemed to be well kept. The floors and rooms were clean. The bedding, especially in the men's department, was, however, in bad condition, much of it being very badly worn and unclean. In the women's department, the beds were in better shape. The water-closets are entirely unfit for use, and should be replaced with more sanitary fixtures. The plumbing generally is poor. The arrangements for extinguishing fire are practically valueless. The pipes for the water are run up in large flues or wells, and the hose attached is coiled up and hung over these pipes. At best, they are too small, being only ordinary garden hose size, and, from long hanging in one position, are stiff and kinked, and would be utterly useless in case of a fire. Besides this, they are inaccessible. The pipes should be extended through the walls into the halls; the valves put on the outside, and the hose put on reels, so that it could be kept in good condition, and within easy reach of any one at a moment's notice.

Visited November 21, 1903, by Mr. S. E. Gill.

I visited Uniontown, Fayette county, yesterday, to inquire into the case of the alleged ill-treatment of John Jacobs, an inmate of the county home at that place.

Visited July 27, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and twenty-eight persons were inmates of this home at the time of this visit.

One of the women was insane.

The building was in excellent condition and very clean. The inmates seemed to be contented and cheerful.

Jacobs had been sent out on a part of the grounds adjacent to the buildings to watch the chickens. A short time afterwards, one of the inmates saw him in the act of disrobing himself to change his clothing. Newcomer's attention was called to the fact, and he went out on the grounds with a cowhide in his hand, and ordered the man into the building, telling him that it was improper that he should change his clothing there. It is admitted that Newcomer struck the man with the cowhide, chasing him into the building. Newcomer, who came in before I left the building, admits that the statements above mentioned are true, and that he struck the man three light blows with the cowhide, but did not mark him. Two of the men who saw the man Jacobs afterwards say that Jacobs called their attention to the fact that he had been whipped, and asked them to look at the marks. Both stated that they did not see any marks on his person. One said that he looked for the marks; the other simply said that he was near by him when he was bathing, after coming into the house, and did not see any marks. It was admitted by all the persons examined that Jacobs was locked up in the cellar for a couple of days. Newcomer said that he gave orders to the Assistant Steward to feed him on bread and water. The Assistant Steward said that he had orders to give him the regular meals, and did so, while he was confined in the cellar.

When questioned as to the rules governing the conduct of the inmates, Newcomer admitted that they had no printed or written rules; that none were posted in the institution, and that practically there were none, but simply his orders given from time to time. Several persons in Uniontown who were questioned say that Jacobs is an inoffensive man, and one person says that he was clothed in miserable rags, unfit for any one to wear. I could secure no explanation of how he came to be so clothed. The people at the home said that he was furnished with the same clothing as other inmates. The inmates generally seem to be comfortably clad and contented.

Mr. Newcomer admitted that he did wrong in striking the man with the whip, but denies any cruelty, and also that the man was insufficiently clothed.

FRANKLIN COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated two miles from Chambersburg.

Visited July 13, 1903, by Mr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, 101 persons were inmates of this institution, 39 of whom were chronic insane.

The building was in good condition and quite clean.

Those admitted here are provided with a comfortable home, and they receive kind and considerate treatment.

GREENE COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated six miles from Waynesburg.

Visited July 24, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

This home, which provided shelter for forty aged persons, was in very good condition. The rooms were clean, the cellar was neat and tidy, and the food ample and appetizing. The heater was in need of repairs, and a promise was given that this would receive immediate attention. It is a good home.

HUNTINGDON COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated at Shirley, six miles from Mount Union.

Visited July 16, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This is for the most part a good and comfortable home, in which aged and broken down citizens of this county receive kind and considerate treatment. Two small out-buildings are kept for untidy cases. These are not what they should be. In other respects it is a most desirable home for the classes who seek its protection.

JEFFERSON COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated two miles from Brookville.

Visited September 2, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Seventy-five inmates were occupants of this institution at the time of this visit. Half of the inmates were insane.

The separation of the sane from the insane was very inadequate, the two classes mingling together without restraint. The exercising yards for the insane were far too small. In many of the rooms, old clothing was allowed to hang. The visit was not satisfactory.

LACKAWANNA COUNTY.

Scranton Poorhouse.

Situated two miles from Clark's Summit.

Visited August 10, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Four hundred and eighty-five persons, 310 of whom were insane, were occupants of this home at the time of this visit. Too much cannot be said in praise of the manner in which this home is conducted. It is truly a progressive institution, and improvements are always being made in it. The buildings, which are in excellent condition, are situated on a farm containing about 400 acres of land. Doctor Lynch, a physician, resides at the home. Many trained nurses are employed to attend the patients both day and night.

Ransom Poorhouse.

Situated three miles from Pittston.

Visited August 9, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, 90 persons were inmates of this home. On a large farm on the banks of the Susquehanna river, in three houses, one of them a fine brick structure, these people are accommodated. It is always kept in perfect order, and entitles those in charge to praise.

NORTHERN LUZERNE POORHOUSE.

Situated two miles from Clark's Summit.

Visited August 10, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Eleven persons were inmates of this institution at the time of this visit. The farm-house is situated on a farm of 125 acres and is comfortable. It would be well to consolidate this with the Hill Side Home, which is not more than a mile distant.

LANCASTER COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated at Lancaster.

Visited July 10, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Three hundred and twenty persons were inmates of this institution at the time of this visit. The buildings were clean and tidy, and reflected credit on the management. One hundred and ninety of the inmates were insane. A new and well-planned building has been erected for this class. A resident physician is employed. The visit was satisfactory.

LEHIGH COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated three miles from Allentown.

Visited August 22, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, 210 persons were receiving good treatment in this institution.

Mr. Kerr has had great experience at this home, and gives it careful attention. It is clean throughout, and both inmates and buildings give evidence of efficient management.

LEBANON COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated one mile from Lebanon.

Visited October 14, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

This institution is provided with two substantial buildings, one an old one, the other comparatively modern. They provide ample accommodation for the poor of this county, and they were, at the time of this visit, in good condition. Eighty persons were occupants of the home at this time. The visit was very satisfactory.

LAWRENCE COUNTY.New Castle Home.

Situated two miles from New Castle.

Visited July 29, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Fifteen aged persons were inmates of this home at the time of this visit. The house, built of brick, on an attractive farm, affords a delightful home for the few aged persons who require its shelter. It is well conducted.

LUZERNE COUNTY.Central Poorhouse.

Situated at Retreat, eleven miles from Wilkes-Barre.

Visited August 8, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, 640 inmates, 475 of whom were insane, occupied this home. It is an excellent institution. The poor department has been repainted, and new closets have been added, which are great improvements. The insane department is not surpassed by any State institution. It possesses every facility whereby the patients may receive the best treatment, and in Doctor Mayberry has as Superintendent a man of ability, especially well fitted for his position. The whole institution was in praiseworthy condition.

LYCOMING COUNTY.Williamsport Poorhouse.

Situated one mile from Williamsport.

Visited August 6, 1903, by Mr. Ryon, Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

In this old residence on the Susquehanna river, the poor of this city have very comfortable accommodations. It is now a little overcrowded, but at slight expense, an addition can be made which will add greatly to the comfort of the inmates and the Steward.

M'KEAN COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated one mile from Smethport.

Visited September 1, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Forty-three inmates were occupants of this home at the time of this visit.

This is an admirable institution. The buildings are constructed so as to separate the sexes, and enable a thorough oversight to be had of the grounds. It was in excellent order.

MERCER COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated two miles from Mercer.

Visited July 29, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and thirty persons, 64 of whom were insane, were occupants of this home at the time of this visit. The building was in very creditable condition. The insane are of the chronic class, who require little treatment and give no trouble. The visit was very satisfactory.

MIFFLIN COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated one mile from Lewistown.

Visited September 4, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Thirty inmates were occupants of this home at the time of this visit. The building was at one time a fine dwelling-house. It has no modern facilities, but, so long as Mr. and Mr. Ruble continue in charge of the institution, the inmates will receive every care and attention necessary to make their declining years comfortable.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated three miles from Phoenixville.

Visited August 13, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and seventy-five persons were inmates of this home at the time of this visit. The buildings were in excellent condition, reflecting credit on the management. No insane cases are kept in this institution.

MONTOUR COUNTY.

Danville and Mahoning Poorhouse.

Situated two miles from Danville.

Visited August 7, 1903, by Mr. Ryon and Mr. Biddle.

Thirteen aged persons are comfortably accommodated in two brick houses provided by these boroughs for their poor. It is not palatial, but quite comfortable.

NORTHAMPTON COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated at Nazareth, eleven miles from Easton.

Visited August 22, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and eighty persons were occupants of this institution at the time of this visit. It was, as it always has been since Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmidt have had charge of it, in perfect order. Every person and place is tidy. The buildings and grounds are in good condition. It is an admirably well-managed institution.

POTTER COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated one mile from Coudersport.

Visited September 30, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, 68 inmates, 41 of whom were insane, were cared for at this institution. The building is new, and equipped with all modern appliances for the comfort of the inmates. Its condition was very creditable.

NORTHUMBERLAND COUNTY.Sunbury Poorhouse.

Visited August 7, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

Four inmates were very comfortably accommodated in this home, at the time of this visit. It is a double brick house, surrounded by a few acres of good land.

SCHUYLKILL COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated at Schuylkill Haven, five miles from Pottsville.

Visited August 19, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, 442 persons, 94 of whom were insane, were occupants of the six buildings provided for them by this county. The buildings are all clean. Some of them are much overcrowded, and, in the winter time, the attics are used as sleeping quarters. These are utterly unfit for the purpose. Too frequent changes are made in the management, and those entrusted with it are not left to use their own judgment, uninfluenced by party dictation.

SOMERSET COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated two miles from Somerset.

Visited July 18, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

On a farm of 347 acres, comfortable buildings are provided for the poor of this county. The building for the accommodation of the aged men could be improved. The new brick building, in which the insane are provided for, is very good. An addition to the number of nurses has been made, and everything seems to be going on satisfactorily.

SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY.

Montrose Poorhouse.

Situated at Montrose.

Visited August 26, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One aged man was the only inmate of this institution. The borough owns the house, and places an elderly lady in charge of it, paying so much a week for the support of each person sent to the home. It is very comfortable.

Auburn and Rush Poorhouse.

Situated eleven miles from Montrose.

Visited August 27, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

In two frame buildings, on a farm containing one hundred acres of land, the poor of these boroughs are given a comfortable support. At the time of this visit, five men and three women were inmates of the home.

It was in fair condition.

TIOGA COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated two miles from Wellsboro.

Visited August 29, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Seventy persons were inmates of this institution, at the time of this visit. While the treatment was apparently good, and the food ample, this home does not present as attractive an appearance as many others. It requires new bedding and more attention.

VENANGO COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated three miles from Franklin.

Visited July 30, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Sixty-six persons were occupants of this home at the time of this visit. The house was in better condition than it was when previously visited. A new refrigerator and cold storage plant have been added to it. The Steward, Mr. Sutton, is anxious to make it a good home.

WASHINGTON COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated at Arden, three miles from Washington.

Visited July 23, 1903, by Mr. Boyle, Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and forty-five persons were inmates of this institution at the time of this visit.

There was some confusion on the premises at this time, owing to new painting, and the erection of new and modern closets. The insane who had been here cared for had been removed to Dixmont. The institution is well and kindly managed by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, and gives a good home to those requiring its shelter.

WARREN COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Rouse Hospital.

Situated one mile from Youngsville.

Visited August 3, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, 82 persons were occupants of the institution. It has accommodation for 100. The building was in fair condition, and the inmates seemed to be contented with their treatment.

WAYNE COUNTY.

Texas and Honesdale Poorhouse.

Situated five miles from Honesdale.

Twelve persons were inmates of this home at the time of this visit. The men occupy one frame building, the women another. Little can be said in praise of this place. The buildings are old, and the furniture and bedding equally so. The inmates are well fed and kindly treated.

WESTMORELAND COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated three miles from Greensburg.

Visited July 27, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, 170 inmates occupied this home. About 15 of these were insane.

The building is large and commodious. It requires to be repainted, and needs some repairing. The inmates receive kind treatment.

YORK COUNTY POORHOUSE.

Situated at York.

Visited July 11, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and ninety persons were inmates of this institution, at the time of this visit. It should be provided with new wash-tubs, as those now there are old and unsightly. The institution was in fair condition.

CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS ORGANIZED BY ASSOCIATIONS OR INDIVIDUALS.

HOSPITALS.

CITY HOSPITAL.

Lancaster.

Visited July 10, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, 25 patients were receiving treatment in the wards of this hospital. A new building is being erected, wherein every modern appliance for the treatment of medical and surgical cases will be provided. It is expected that this building can be occupied by the first of November next.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL.

Lancaster.

Visited July 10, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

In this large hospital, 125 beds for patients are provided. Forty-five of these were occupied at the time of this visit. Every facility has been here provided for the best and most approved treatment of medical and surgical cases. The private rooms are very attractive. It is an admirable hospital.

YORK HOSPITAL.

York.

Visited July 11, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Twenty-five cases were under treatment in this hospital at the time of this visit. A new addition will soon be completed, which will add greatly to the facilities now possessed for the treatment of the patients. It is a thoroughly live institution, and is of great service to this community.

CHAMBERSBURG HOSPITAL.

Chambersburg.

Visited July 13, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

This small hospital is now conducted in a house which was a private dwelling. It has 10 beds for patients, 9 of which were occupied. It does a good work.

TODD HOSPITAL.

Carlisle.

Visited July 13, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

In this small hospital, four patients were receiving treatment at the time of this visit. The building now used was a private dwelling-house. It does a small work.

HARRISBURG HOSPITAL.

Harrisburg.

Visited July 14, 1903, Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Fifty beds are provided for patients in this hospital. At the time of this visit, they were all filled. The building has been enlarged, and, when the old portion of the building can be replaced with a modern structure, it will make a very complete hospital. She has 26 assistants, and 3 resident physicians are employed.

UNIONTOWN HOSPITAL.

Visited November 21, 1903, by Mr. S. E. Gill.

I visited the Hospital at Uniontown, Fayette county, yesterday afternoon. The new building is just about completed, and will be opened on the 23d instant. I would class it as a model building for its purpose. Great care has been exercised in its construction to make every portion of the building light, airy, convenient and sanitary. The equipment, as far as completed, is excellent, and arrangements for the comfort of the patients and attendants and help are admirable. The people of Uniontown and vicinity seem to be very much interested in the institution, and have rallied to its support in a very commendable way.

MERCY HOSPITAL.

This institution provides for aged women and children. The two classes occupy separate buildings, under different matrons. At this time there were 24 aged women and 37 children in the institution. The buildings are good and substantial, and they gave evidence of good and kind management.

ST. PATRICK'S ORPHANS' HOME.

Erie.

Visited August 3, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and sixty-five children are cared for in this institution by 27 Sisters of the Catholic Church. They were all remarkably healthy, and gave every indication of receiving kind and judicious treatment.

BEACON LIGHT MISSION.

Bradford.

Visited August 4, 1903, by Mr. Boyle and Mr. Biddle.

This is a most unattractive building. Twenty-five children, seven of whom belong to the family of the Superintendent, were inmates of it at the time of this visit. The building was old and dilapidated. The clothing on the children and that on the beds was very poor and much soiled. Altogether it presented a very unsatisfactory appearance.

CITY INFIRMARY.

Bradford.

Visited August 4, 1903, by Mr. Boyle and Mr. Biddle.

The city of Bradford pays $10 per month for each indigent person sent to this home. It would be far better if this city would form part of the county poor-district and send its indigent citizens to the county almshouse. The city of Bradford is not included in the McKean county district.

GIRLS' TRAINING SCHOOL.

Williamsport.

Visited August 6, 1903, by Mr. Ryon, Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Thirty-two girls are inmates of this institution. The object of this home is to train these girls to be useful by giving them a thorough knowledge of domestic work. It is a very interesting institution, and is doubtless doing a good work.

BOYS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Williamsport.

Visited August 6, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

This is a most interesting institution, and will well repay a visit. Thirty-two boys were inmates of it at this time. Every boy is taught some practical trade, whereby he can become self-supporting. The work here done is simply marvelous. The institution is self-sustaining, and it is so entirely through the work done by the boys.

The bread made has a large sale, and is in great demand.

It is a wonderful place, and speaks volumes in favor of the Superintendent.

HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS.

Williamsport.

Visited August 6, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Thirty-nine aged women and 56 children were inmates of this home. It occupies a new and very attractive building on the outskirts of the city.

At the time of this visit, this house had: Sisters, 22; Magdalens, 34; Preservation Children, 33, and Reformatory girls, 68.

The influence which these Sisters gain over erring girls is marvelous. The work is a self-denying one, but they willingly give it to aid their fellow-sisters. It is a most interesting institution.

ST. PATRICK'S ORPHAN ASYLUM.

Scranton.

Visited August 10, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

One hundred and twenty children were inmates of this institution at this time. No serious sickness had troubled the children. All were well and happy, and gave every evidence of receiving kind treatment.

CHILDREN'S HOME.

Pottsville.

Visited August 12, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

In the midst of a large pine grove, overlooking a wide space of country, in a large double house, 10 children were given a most attractive home. It was in excellent condition. It was truly a model institution.

HOUSE OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD.

Reading.

Visited August 13, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

At the time of this visit, this house contained: Sisters, 18; Magdalens, 45; Reformatory children, 90. The same good influences which were found existing at Scranton are very evident here. The house is new and well built, and has every facility for the work required.

It is truly a good home, accomplishing a great work.

HOME OF THE FRIENDLESS.

Visited August 13, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Thirty-one children were inmates of this home at this time. There was no sickness. The house was in perfect order, and the children gave evidence that they received kind and judicious treatment.

HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS.Bethlehem.

Visited August 22, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Thirty children were occupants of this country home at this time. They all had bright, happy faces. The house was in excellent condition. The home is well and satisfactorily managed.

HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS.Easton.

Visited August 22, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

Fifty-seven children were occupants of this home at this time. The building is a brick structure, with small wooden infirmary on the outside.

The children were very bright, and gave the impression that they were happy and contented.

MEMORIAL HOME.Brookville.

Visited September 2, 1903, by Dr. McLeod and Mr. Biddle.

Thirty-one persons are inmates of this home. The brick building occupied by it was constructed for a summer hotel, and is situated in the midst of a delightful grove. It is well adapted for its present purpose. It is intended for the wives, mothers, daughters and children of soldiers.

It was in excellent order.

JAMES C. SMITH MEMORIAL HOME.Oakbourne.

Visited October 2, 1903, by Dr. Mitchell and Mr. Biddle.

This home now occupies the country residence of the late James C. Smith. It was left to the Mission of the Protestant Episcopal Church by his widow as a memorial to her husband.

The beautiful building is too elaborate to be appreciated by the young women who are sent here by the Mission when in need of rest.

It is a most worthy charity.

CHURCH HOME.Jonestown.

Visited October 14, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

This home is beautifully situated near Jonestown. The building is a large and substantial brick structure. It held thirty-six children at the time of this visit. It is under the charge of the Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Central Pennsylvania.

HOME FOR AGED WIDOWS AND SINGLE WOMEN.

Lebanon.

Visited October 14, 1903, by Mr. Biddle.

Ten aged women here have a delightful home. The brick building is a substantial structure, in which every elderly lady has her own room. The oldest person in the home is 91 years of age, and the youngest 61.

It is capable of accommodating 18 inmates. When not full, it will receive elderly boarders on a payment of $3 per week.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Potter Street, Pittsburg.

Visited October 2, 1903, by Mr. Torrance.

Some few weeks ago, I had a complaint against the Children's Home Society of Pennsylvania, who conduct a home at Potter street, near Doup Station, P. R. R., just on this side of East Liberty Station. I found the home in a very dirty condition, to say the least. Fortunately, I met the president of the institution there, and it was there had been sufficient time to remedy it, and I am going there again. In the meantime, the president, Mr. Jarratt, mentioned above, has called on me, and assured me that everything has been cleaned up, and put in good shape.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF VISITORS APPOINTED BY THE BOARD FOR PHILADELPHIA COUNTY FOR THE YEAR ENDING FEBRUARY 10, 1904.

To the Board of Commissioners of Public Charities of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Philadelphia, March 5, 1904.

Gentlemen: We beg to present herewith our annual report for the year ending February 10, 1904:

During this period, 81 visits have been paid to 53 institutions of different kinds, and to the comments as made severally upon them, and approved by our Committee, we invite your attention.

The institutions generally have been found in good condition. In many of them, a superior degree of excellence has been attained, and, even among those of less perfect standard, we notice with pleasure a marked tendency to improvement.

There are yet others, such as certain Rescue Homes for unfortunate women and discharged prisoners, as shown by previous reports, for which we have nothing but words of disapproval.

The objects for which they claim to have organized are but poorly fulfilled, while such work as they accomplish is not of a kind to which we can refer with any satisfaction.

In this connection, we must deplore the reckless way in which many reputable men and women allow the use of their names as Managers of Institutions of whose methods they are practically ignorant, entirely disregarding the grave responsibility they assume in so endorsing these schemes of questionable benevolence.

It is encouraging to observe the deepening attention bestowed upon matters touching the interests of children, as shown by the measures, whether fundamental or preventive, undertaken to promote their welfare.

Courts of Law, by which the young delinquent can be separated from the older and more hardened criminal, have met the long-felt need for their establishment.

Legislation in regard to placing a limit upon the number of hours in the day during which a child may be employed is now almost universal throughout our country, there being at the present time but three States in which laws to this effect have not been enacted.

There is also a growing tendency in favor of placing the homeless child in a family home rather than in an Institution. This is a plan requiring the greatest care, but one that meets with our hearty approval, when carried out on lines which recognize the absolute necessity of thorough investigation of every detail of the home before placing the child in it, and of careful supervision afterwards, as essential to success.

The Visitors take pleasure in acknowledging the courtesy with which, in most cases, their visits have been received, the cheerfulness with which their criticisms have been accepted, and the gratification they have felt in meeting so often the cordial expression of a desire to make those changes which they have thought best to recommend.

Respectfully submitted,

CATHERINE K. MEREDITH,

Chairman.

PRISONS AND REFORMATORIES.

EASTERN PENITENTIARY.

Fairmount Avenue and Twenty-first Street.

This institution has undergone many changes recently, and your Visitors hope that it may ere long be restored to its former satisfactory condition. A new Warden has been elected, Mr. Joseph P. Byers, formerly of Columbus, Ohio, who has entered upon the discharge of his duties with zeal and earnestness. His position is an important one, and we feel encouraged to hope that he will prove to be the right man for the place.

Our visits to the penitentiary have not been numerous during the past year. We regret to notice the increasing tendency to the removing of the cells from the use of the prisoners. Within three years, at least sixty cells, formerly occupied by prisoners, have been appropriated to other purposes, and the time cannot be very far distant when the overcrowding, which was some years ago such a serious evil, will again occur. We always find the institution clean throughout. The system prevailing here during nearly all the years of its existence, of the exclusion of political interference with its management, has resulted in the establishing of a well-trained and experienced staff of officials, who, holding their places during good behavior, know no master but duty. We trust that this system may never be upset. No efficient prison management is possible under any other.

COUNTY PRISON.

Tenth and Reed Streets.

Visited November 2, 1903.

Our visits to this Institution are confined to the department for women. We found this department in good order throughout, showing evidence of careful and systematic management. The staff of officials consists of a matron, an assistant matron, two day keepers, two night keepers and a physician. On the date of our visit, there were 120 inmates, including the tried and untried. Of the former class, there were 62, and it would be a great improvement if provision could be made to give exercise in the prison yard to many of those who spend their time, sometimes extending over years, in their cells. For the young, who are serving their first terms of three or six months, the separation in the cells is desirable, but even for these, the ample yard space would give opportunity for out-door exercise without exposing them to the danger of association with older offenders. We regret that there is no provision for regular work, but we realize that the law restricting prison labor in this State makes this very difficult of accomplishment. Of the total number of convicted women, 15 are employed in the washhouse, 4 in the kitchen, and others in scrubbing and cleaning in the prison proper, leaving about half the number unemployed.

On the whole, the condition of this department of our County Prison is creditable to the officials in charge, all of whom, including the physician, are women.

HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

Visited January 28, 1904.

There were 1,720 inmates, of whom 150 were women.

This institution seemed in good condition, except that, in the men's kitchen, considerable untidiness was visible.

Worthy of high commendation seems the plan pursued of having the male inmates employed in maintaining gas works, supplying Holmesburg, Tacomy, etc., as well as the institution itself; they are employed also in improving streets and highways in the communities near the institution. Besides such work, the male inmates are employed in numerous ways, and are kept constantly at work. The work of the female inmates is naturally restricted to in-door labor of a domestic nature, cleaning, cooking, sewing, etc.

Your Committee regrets that the night school has not been in session this winter or the preceding one. Lack of coal was the reason last winter, and this year it has not been convenient to re-open it.

PARTIAL REPORT OF THE HOUSE OF REFUGE FOR GIRLS.

Twenty-second and Poplar Streets.

Visited May 5th.

Capacity, 200.

Inmates at time of visit, 157.

As far as the physical welfare of the girls is concerned, everything is in its usual excellent condition.

On the bedrooms was bright new rag carpet, all the rags being cut and sewed by the young girls. As the shirts of red flannel for the boys at Glen Mills are all made at the Girl's Refuge, there is plenty of good bright material for the carpet rags.

The shoes for the girls are all made at Glen Mills.

In the separate building for the colored girls, the same high standard of cleanliness is not maintained as in the white department, though that is above the average institution. The reason given was that it is more difficult to get as good work out of the colored as out of the white girls, and it is also more difficult to get as good a Superintendent for them.

HOUSE OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD.

Fairmount Avenue and Thirty-sixth Street.

(Reached by Baring Street cars on Market street).

Visited October 27, 1903.

We found this institution in good order throughout. We inspected it in every part, being accorded every facility by the Sisters in charge. The class and work-rooms are large and well ventilated, and the prevailing healthy appearance of the inmates was indicative of good care. There were 300 inmates at the date of our visit, none of whom were in the infirmaries, of which there are two. The large dormitories were very full, in our opinion too full, but alongside of each bed was a table containing pitcher and basin, mug, tooth-brush, etc., which relieved the monotony of the long rows of beds. It is impossible to visit this institution without a feeling of sadness that so many young girls should need its protecting care, while at the same time realizing that it meets the needs of this class of unfortunates in a very marked degree. Some of your visitors have personal knowledge of several of the cases, and can bear testimony to this fact.

The institution is supported in great part by the work of the inmates. A laundry has been established within a few years in which is the most improved machinery, which, while making the work easier for the inmates while in the institution, does not give the instruction necessary to fit them for laundry-work in private families. The work of the house is all done by the Sisters, but changes are now being made in the kitchen to enable them to give instruction in cooking to a class of the inmates.

ASYLUM OF ST. MAGDALEN.

Penn and Chew Streets, Germantown.

Reached by Pennsylvania Railroad to Chelton Avenue, and thence by Frankford trolley line on Chelton Avenue.

Visited March 6, 1903.

This is an asylum under the care of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, for the reformation of fallen and wayward colored girls, of whom there were 65 at time of visit. In addition to these, there are 35 young girls, also colored, who have been taken in charge by the Sisters to be kept from evil, and are called Preservates. All are taught in school for a part of each day, and also receive instruction in laundry work, sewing and housework.

The Preservates are kept at all times entirely apart from the girls of the reformatory, being even in a separate building.

The houses were in a superior condition of neatness and cleanliness, and your visitor was much impressed with the general atmosphere of kindness, and the evidence of mutual affection and interest existing between the Sisters and their charges.

THE MAGDALEN SOCIETY.

213 North Twenty-first Street.

Visited November 10, 1903.

The capacity of this home is for 30 inmates. There were 21 at the date of our visit. We found that, since our last visit three coats of paint had been put on the house, the old paper scraped off the walls, which were plastered in places in which there were holes. All this work was done by the inmates. The outside shutters being taken off, and painted in the yard. The walls on the stairways, and in the halls and bedrooms, were all painted, and the improvement in the general appearance of the house was marked. As a reward, a party was given to the girls on the evening of the sixth instant, consisting of music, games, and a supper of fried oysters, ice cream, cake and sandwiches. The work was very well done, and the girls were naturally much pleased with their success.

This institution, formed for the reformation of young girls, is still under the control of a Board of Managers composed entirely of men, and they are attended by a male physician. We again present this matter to your honorable Board, and suggest that you give it earnest attention. It is certainly an anomaly that, at the beginning of the twentieth century, women should be entirely excluded from the management of an institution in which the inmates are exclusively of their own sex.

THE MIDNIGHT MISSION.

919 Locust Street.

Visited January 11, 1904.

This house, with a capacity for 17 inmates, was found with but 7 women. Everything was so clean and comfortable, and the atmosphere of the whole house so pleasant, one could not help wishing that such a place were full, when it is known what many women suffer in unwholesome places.

Plain, simple home keeping, without any sentimental cant, seems best to describe the impression given your visitor of what might be called the policy of the management.

There is no attempt at a maternity ward here. The mission wisely leaves that to the hospitals. Neither is there an attempt to keep mothers and babies, for the Mission co-operates with the Sheltering Arms.

Only women waiting confinement are found in this house. They are admitted any time during that period, and find a quiet home and good care under wise direction.

FRANKLIN REFORMATORY HOME FOR INEBRIATES.

911, 913, 915 Locust Street.

Visited January 11, 1904.

Number of inmates at date of visit, 25. The total number during the past year was 200, of whom 180 were discharged during the year. Of these, 87, or over 48 per cent., are claimed in the annual report as reformed. The theory adopted in this institution is that drunkenness is not a disease, but a sin, and the system, as carried out, seems to be both wise and humane. It is not denied that drinking to excess develops disease, and physical restoration, under the advice of physicians, is the first step in the treatment. After this is secured, every effort is made to restore the self-respect of the inmates, and to secure the co-operation of his will, it being essential to admission that all inmates should come willingly. No one is admitted for less than four weeks, and most remain several months. None are allowed to go out of the house without the permission of the physician and chairman of the executive committee. One marked feature of the system is that all the officers and employees are former inmates of the home, and thus, during the suffering endured at first from the deprivation of stimulants, the man is cared for by those who themselves have gone through the same distress. Assurance of real sympathy is thus secured.

We heartily commend this excellent institution,

HOME OF INDUSTRY FOR DISCHARGED PRISONERS.

Near Woodland Avenue and Twenty-third Street.

Reached by Darby cars on Walnut and Pine streets.

Visited January 11, 1904.

We found this institution very much improved. A new brick building for use as a workshop has been erected, giving additional room in the main building. A large new dormitory and two new bath-rooms with modern plumbing have been added. On the ground floor, where the workroom used to be, is a new dining-room for the inmates. We saw the men at dinner, and were pleased with the neat appearance of the tables. The dormitories also were very neat, and the whole appearance of the house was changed for the better. There were 17 inmates at date of visit. The usual industries were carried on: broom and basket making, to which is soon to be added the repatriating of cane-seated chairs.

While the improvement in the physical conditions is gratifying, we do not approve of the system of keeping together, in daily association, the former inmates of prisons. Many prisoners feel that by this place the prison taint is continued. As one, now in prison, who was once an inmate of a similar institution, said very recently: "Why send me to a place in which, every time I am seen going out or coming in, I am marked as a jail-bird, and in which my companions will be thieves like myself?" The motive in establishing these institutions is good. It is their method to which we object. Separation, as far as possible, while in prison, to be continued after discharge, is the only safe principle. And, on the side of the public, there is nothing to prevent one of these homes from being a meeting-place in which the inmates may plan new crimes.

THE DOOR OF BLESSING.

4220 Chester Avenue.

Visited January 12, 1904.

But one inmate was in this house at the time of this visit, a woman with her infant. The women do not incline to accept a long term of residence here, for after a time of prison life, the greatest thing desired is their freedom.

The management is successful in securing places for many of the discharged prisoners, but it is hard to train to usefulness people who have grown up in idleness, and often from this cause have become criminals.

It is a matter of congratulation that so few women remain in this institution together for any length of time, as the society of one another could not be wholesome.

The house was in its usual excellent condition.

THE DOOR OF HOPE.

2916 North Sixteenth Street.

Visited November 6, 1903.

The object of this home is to reach the young girls brought here by what is known as a Rescue Band. This Rescue Band consists of 3 men, who visit the houses of ill repute, to persuade any who are there to make a start in a new life.

The Door of Hope in its present capacity can accommodate 8 girls. The house was full at this date.

The matron and her assistant, with the help of the inmates, do the entire work of the house. The home was clean and orderly throughout.

The fact that the girls cannot have separate sleeping-rooms, with the present arrangement of the house, was adversely commented on by your visitor.

FLORENCE CRITTENDON HOME.

531 Lombard Street.

Visited April 7, 1903.

This home, devoted to what is known as "Rescue Work for Young Girls," is one of 54 such in this country and Europe which have been established by Mr. C. N. Crittendon, of New York city. Mr. Crittendon, by personal contribution, starts these homes, but leaves them afterwards to the charity of the respective cities in which they are placed, for maintenance and development. Each home is under the care of a local board of managers, and works out its own problems in its own way. The present condition of the Philadelphia Home reflects but little credit upon its founder or its local board. Your visitor was most unpleasantly impressed with every particular of the management of the house. The possibility of a change of residence in the near future renders a criticism of the present quarters perhaps unnecessary, but the shortcomings of the housekeeping cannot all be laid to the house, which is, however, dilapidated enough.

A matron and two "helpers," with the assistance of the inmates, do the work of the house, and nurse the sick. The two helpers, young women of 22 years, have had some training in nursing in the National Home at Washington, D. C. In this Florence Crittendon Home, beside the nursing, it is the duty of the helpers to "solicit" food for the family. All the vegetables and meats for the household are thus "solicited" from the markets.

There were 14 adults and 6 babies, besides 2 children, 4 years and 2 and one-half years old, inmates at this time.

There are no women on the local board of management, and no woman-physician attendant on the girls.

FLORENCE CRITTENDON HOME.

139. Queen Street, Germantown.

Visited January 12, 1904.

This institution was formerly the Door of Hope, which has now been merged with the Florence Crittendon Home, formerly 531 Lombard street, Philadelphia.

The Board of Managers of the Door of Hope retained their positions, with the exception of the treasurership, which office will be filled by Mr. Mahlon N. Kline, for many years treasurer of the Florence Crittendon Home.

Building improvements are to be made in the summer, providing larger quarters. At the Rescue Home for Women, your visitor found three women with babies, and several awaiting confinement, two of whom already had illegitimate children. A child of five and one of three were also there—one with its mother, who was expecting another child; the other, having been deserted at the Home by his mother—a runaway inmate.

The inmates do all the cooking and housework; also laundry work commanding good prices. Matron and trained nurse constitute the working staff.

Everything looked well, even the somewhat cramped dormitories, whose accommodations will be much enlarged by the expected building additions. There is no restriction as to the admission of other than first offenders. One woman was there, awaiting her second confinement—the father of both infants a married man with a large family.

This seems like a kindly, well-conducted home.

THE HOWARD INSTITUTION.

No. 1612 Poplar Street, Philadelphia.

Visited December 1, 1903.

The object of this home being to try to bring back young girls to the straight path, and to reclaim drinking women, the managers have so far succeeded as to have sheltered during the year 51 women and girls for periods varying from two days to six months. Of this number, 14 remaining the full time—six months—were then placed in institutions. Six young girls were taken home by their parents, and 6 women went home to their families, 4 were dismissed, while 14 left dissatisfied.

Their time is employed in housework, sewing and laundry work, fancy work and reading.

A woman physician visits the home regularly.

Visits have been paid during the year to the magistrates and police matrons, to influence them to send young girls to "The Home" for first offenses rather than to a penal institution.

The house was very neat and tidy, and the inmates looked comfortable.

Each person has a separate bedroom.

At the time of visit, there were 9 inmates.

HOUSE OF OUR SAVIOUR.

No. 1925 Mount Vernon Street, Philadelphia.

Visited December 3, 1903.

This institution was opened September 1, 1900, and incorporated 1901. Since then 121 persons have been cared for. At the time of our visit, there were 8 inmates—6 women and 2 children.

The managers claim to shelter, reform, instruct, provide homes and employment, and to protect unfortunate women and girls.

The management of the house affairs is vested in a house committee, composed of 10 women, who act subject to the approval of a board of managers, consisting of 10 men.

A resident matron and a nurse have charge of the house. Comfortable provision is made for 12 girls, and there is a nursery with 6 cribs. There is also a delivery room, with the necessary appliances.

The house is supported by donations of all sorts, and by contributions of money, which are solicited in a great measure by the matron. The work of the house is done by those who are being assisted there.

Although this institution has a reputable board of managers, and is legalized by a charter, we do not approve of its methods.

ALMSHOUSE.

BLOCKLEY.

Philadelphia Hospital and Almshouse.

Your committee has made 15 visits to this institution during the year 1903. The appointment of a new director, the resignation of the old and valued head nurse, and many of those under her, and the installation of others in their place, are the changes noted.

The open-air ward on the roof was kept open quite late, and the patients seemed very comfortable.

The crowded dormitories have been somewhat relieved, and quite a number of beds have been taken out. The danger of fire is still extreme, on account of the wooden stairs, and the fact that the exits are far apart.

In the women's wards, many of the straw beds have been replaced by mattresses, but, as there are no springs, the old women think them hard.

The new disinfecting houses seem to have done considerable service. Families in which there has been contagious disease are placed here, while their houses and clothing are disinfected. Six glass houses have been built, but, at the present writing, have not been put into use.

The assistant head nurse is interested in teaching the children and young people singing, which is a great enjoyment to all.

The nurses' dining-room has been much improved by enlargement. A good deal of fresh paint has been put on. The nurses' infirmary and the doctors' infirmary have been repainted, and in a measure refitted.

The children's hospital is unfortunate from beginning to end. The kitchen and dining-room are dark; there are no fire escapes; the stairs go around the elevator, and have wooden treads to the steps.

HOSPITALS.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL.

Twenty-second Street, Below Walnut.

Visited April 18, 1903.

This hospital takes children up to twelve years of age needing surgical or medical attention. Its capacity is 75. There were 63 children at time of visit. The country-branch, near George's Hill, open from June until October, is for 30 more, but for convalescents only. There are two resident physicians, 30 nurses trained in the hospital (a two-years' course), and 25 servants. Contagious diseases are generally sent to the Municipal Hospital. There is a very good roof-garden, which is of great use. Pasteurized milk is given to the babies; meals are good. The hospital was clean, and the children looked as happy as possible and very comfortable. In the dispensary, a nominal charge of 15 cents for medicines is asked of those who can pay. Total number in hospital for year 1902, 1,175; in dispensary, 14,775.

GERMANTOWN HOSPITAL.

Wingohocking Station.

Visited May 16, 1903.

There were 78 patients, 23 nurses, 20 servants.

There were 14,563 cases treated in the dispensary.

We found the standards here had been raised, the hospital now taking rank among our best institutions. Its position in the midst of large grounds is unequalled. It is supplied from the garden with small fruits and vegetables, and the poultry-yard has yielded 15,000 eggs during the last year. Notwithstanding increased comfort, the cost per capita has decreased to $1.28 per day.

THE GYNECEAN HOSPITAL.

No. 247 North Eighteenth Street, Philadelphia.

Visited January 11, 1904.

This is a women's hospital, provided solely to benefit the sufferers of that sex, independent of color, social position or religion. It depends for its maintenance upon the appropriation granted by the State Legislature, and the contributions of private individuals.

During the year 1902, the capacity of the wards was increased, and new operating, sterilizing and etherizing rooms were added. The general appearance of the entire place is one of comfort and cleanliness.

The house is heated by steam. The laundry is detached from the main building. There is a good fire escape.

Number of patients admitted during 1902, ...	247
Number of operations, ...	423
Number of visits to out-patients, ...	1,241

There were ten nurses in training. The course is two years.

HOWARD HOSPITAL.

Broad and Catherine Streets.

Visited February 6, 1904.

Your visitor has been to this hospital at least a dozen times during the year, and in looking back she is able to see some improvement. The grocery-closet has been plastered, the coal hole next the kitchen cleaned, the kitchen is much tidier, and the cellar has been whitewashed, but, alas! much remains to be improved. There are 13 servants, including an engineer, and 10 nurses, for an average of 40 patients. Such a staff should certainly be able to keep such a small hospital in a state of perfect cleanliness, but there is evident incompetence somewhere. The work when considered "done" is only half done. The pails, with dirty dressings, etc., are always standing about. The rooms in which the clinics have been held for the dispensary are in disorder two and three hours after the clinic is over. At your visitor's instance, a rack has been put up, in which the plates, dishes, etc., of the typhoid patients are kept apart, but, in spite of earnest and repeated representations, such is not the case with the bed pans of the typhoid patients.

In one room, three nurses sleep, which seems very unsanitary. In fact, what this hospital most needs is good housekeeping.

KENSINGTON HOSPITAL FOR WOMEN.

136 Diamond Street, Norris Square.

Visited May 2, 1903.

Capacity, 40; inmates at time of visit, 38.

Only gynecean cases are taken, though occasionally a rest-cure case is allowed. There is a free ward. Sixteen nurses and 7 house servants are employed. The head nurse acts as matron.

A good side yard (onto which a large fire escape opens) gives plenty of air and light.

A board of managers, composed of men, meet once a month. A committee of women visitors hold a monthly meeting, but a sub-committee visits every two weeks.

Everything was in excellent order, and the nurses were comfortably housed, as were also the domestic servants.

MATERNITY HOSPITAL.

734 South Tenth Street.

Visited March 10, 1903.

The conditions here are exactly the same as last year. The building is in good condition, the neatness in cellar, etc., much improved, but too much work is expected from the waiting patients to keep the whole house in really first-rate order. Your visitor again called attention to the staircase leading to the nurses' rooms. In case of fire, it would be a real menace to life, being so narrow and crooked. This institution is supposed never to admit an unmarried woman for her second confinement, but your visitor fears this rule is not always kept. The institution had been visited by a committee of seven of the Pennsylvania Legislature a few days before your visitor was there.

MEDICO-CHIRURGICAL HOSPITAL OF PHILADELPHIA.

Visited January 11, 1904.

The new hospital building is nearing completion, and is well adapted for its purposes. The walls and floors are finished in white tile. The woodwork and ceilings are painted in white gloss paint. Modern appliances are used in bathrooms, operating rooms, etc.

The six dwelling houses on 18th street, known as the Maternity Department and the Children's Department, are now being used for the general hospital until such time as the new hospital shall be ready.

These dwellings are unfit for hospital purposes. It is to be hoped that, when the patients are removed, these houses will be put in a sanitary condition. Everything about the place was dirty. Even with the work going on, it seemed to your visitor there was no excuse for the condition of the wards.

Total number of cases admitted during 1902, 2,255; of these 1,366 were free cases; 6,602 cases were treated in the accident room; 56,138 visits were made to their dispensaries. Total expenditures were $78,702.17.

The training-school for nurses graduated 11 nurses in 1902.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL.

Broad and Wolfe Streets.

Visited December 30, 1903.

Capacity, 80.

This hospital is supported entirely by voluntary contributions, receiving no State aid.

There is a training-school in which there are 30 pupil nurses, taking a three-years' course.

The floors throughout the present buildings were being renovated, and the walls newly enameled.

The trustees have money in hand to build, in the coming year, two additional buildings, one to be used for a nurses' home, and the other for a dispensary. The hospital was clean, but does not reach the highest standard of hospital conditions.

PHILADELPHIA ORTHOPAEDIC HOSPITAL.

Seventeenth and Summer Streets.

Visited November 9, 1903.

The prosperous condition of this institution is indicated by the numerous repairs going on in the main building, and the erection of a nurses' home adjoining the hospital, in which there are to be accommodations also for the domestic servants.

A new laundry has been erected since our last visit.

Two classes of nurses, from 15 to 20 in each class, are trained yearly in massage. There is another class for electrical treatment. This hospital has always had one male nurse in training; in future, two men are to have the privilege.

Your visitor is glad to be able to report a marked improvement since the previous visit in the general appearance of this institution.

PRESTON RETREAT.

Hamilton Street, between Twentieth and Twenty-first Streets, Philadelphia.

Visited December 2, 1903.

The usual good order observed in this hospital still exists, and it has also a good healthy record in regard to its inmates. There were five patients waiting in the hospital, at the time of this visit, and four in bed. The comfortable wards were empty. There is one resident nurse, and there are six others, who each receive two months' training in obstetrics. They come from the Presbyterian, St. Joseph's and the Episcopal Hospitals.

The bathrooms have been refitted with all modern conveniences for heating water, etc. Average number of patients during the year, twenty per month. House staff consists of matron and six maids, also two gardeners.

RUSH HOSPITAL FOR CONSUMPTIVES AND ALLIED DISEASES.

Lancaster Avenue and Thirty-third Street.

Visited May 2, 1903.

Twenty-five inmates.

We did not find this home in a cleanly, orderly condition, though we doubt if any care could overcome the great disadvantages of its situation, on two lines of street cars, opposite the Pennsylvania Railroad Station, and surrounded by factories and apartment houses. The air was laden with smoke, soot and dust. As a dispensary it might prove valuable, but, as a place of residence, even temporary, for consumptives, it seems, most inadvisable.

SAMARITAN HOSPITAL.

Broad and Ontario Streets.

Visited May 8, 1903.

This is a hospital trying to do a work far beyond its facilities in the present quarters, and greatly hampered for want of means. The condition of the house was so far from satisfactory that nothing but the fact of a new building, already furnished and ready for occupancy in June, tempers the criticism of your visitor for the disorder and lack of cleanliness clearly observable at every turn.

There are 49 beds, 48 patients, 27 nurses and 3 servants.

During the year 1902, there had been 507 house cases and 3,263 dispensary cases.

ST. CHRISTOPHER'S HOSPITAL FOR CHILDREN.

Lawrence and Huntingdon Streets.

(Reached by Fifth street car to Huntingdon!)

Visited March 5, 1903.

This hospital is a model of what may be achieved by a capable and devoted Superintendent with small means. It is indeed strange that such an institution should not receive all the aid, both from the State and from private individuals, that is needed. The position is an ideal one, open on all four sides to light and air, and with Fairhill Square, with its good trees, just in front. The hospital contains 38 inmates at the present time, but the babies' ward is empty for want of funds to support it, though it would cost little more than $50 a month. The whole house was scrupulously clean, though the lack of money was evident in the need of paint and plaster. It was at dinner time that your visitor happened to be here, but the kitchen was in perfect order, and the refrigerator sweet and clean. There was no odor anywhere; everything was well aired and well kept.

There are 8 servants, 4 of whom are laundresses. The little patients were clean and contented, and your visitor was struck by the pleasant faces and manners of the nurses, of whom there are only 4. In a separate building are the dispensaries, and over them a ward for contagious diseases. Adjoining is a small house in which the nurses have their rooms, and to which they go for rest. This, like the rest of the institution, was in excellent order. Your visitor has nothing but commendation for this little hospital.

Visited January 27, 1904.

This admirable hospital, which fills a great need in the northern part of the city, was full January 27th, when visited. While things were not in their usual immaculate condition, at the time of the visit, they were in very good order, although the Superintendent was absent on her vacation. The dispensary rooms were full to overflowing, and an operation had just been finished. One touching evidence of the value of the institution is that the children of the neighborhood have raised $40 for it in small sums. The babies' ward, closed last year on account of a deficit, is full of very sick babies now. It is a fact creditable to the care received by the children here that, of 52 cases of typhoid, every one recovered.

It is a pleasure to visit an institution which can be so heartily recommended to the benevolence of the State and of the public, for more money is sadly needed, and what there is is wisely and economically used.

WILLS HOSPITAL.

Eighteenth and Race Streets.

Visited May 12, 1903.

There were 40 inmates.

We found much improvement since our last visit. A higher standard of efficiency and comfort was evident. During the months of March and April, 2,648 cases were treated. It is probable that no philanthropic work does more to diminish the dependent classes of our city than is effected by this institution.

WOMAN'S HOSPITAL OF PHILADELPHIA.

Twenty-second and North College Avenue.

Visited May 19, 1903.

Capacity, 140.

Inmates at time of visit, 79.

Your visitor is sorry to have to give an unfavorable report of this hospital, whose board of managers is composed entirely of women, and who seem to be attempting more than they can carry out.

The top floor was being scraped, and cracks were being filled up, which, of course, made much dust and dirt; but, as we went down from floor to floor, we could not feel that that was the only cause of the general air of disorder and slackness that pervaded the whole building. There is evidently an effort to economize, and the mistake of reducing the hired help is being made. The nurses are expected to help with the housework, scrub floors, clean windows, etc., which has the disadvantage of roughening the hands, and making them unfit for delicate nursing, as well as for other things.

If there was a housekeeper, however, at the head of things who saw to it that the nurses picked up after themselves, a far higher standard of order would be maintained.

The supply of linen seemed very low, the shelves of all the linen closets being almost bare. Many of the basins in the water closets were dirty. The kitchen gave evidence of better care than some other parts of the house.

A second visit to this hospital was made in November. We were pleased to find considerable improvement. The president of the board of managers, in writing to us of our visit, says: "I am sure we should be grateful for having cleanliness, that essential of hospital management, kept constantly and emphatically before our minds, and I trust that, at your next visit to the Woman's Hospital, you will see a still greater improvement."

WOMAN'S HOMOEOPATHIC ASSOCIATION.

Twentieth and Susquehanna Avenue.

Reached by North Nineteenth Street Cars.

Visited November 9, 1903.

Inmates treated during the year, 983.

Only 29 patients were in the hospital on the day of our visit, as important improvements were in progress. Such portions as were occupied gave evidence of the usual order, cleanliness and good management of the institution.

WOMAN'S HOSPITAL.

Forty-first and Parrish Streets.

Visited May 28, 1903.

Seventeen patients on day of visit; 354 during the year; in dispensary, 1,077.

We found much improvement since our last visit. A new maternity building had been added and the plumbing refitted. The washing was sent out to a steam laundry. A new Superintendent from the New York Polyclinic had been engaged. The whole management indicated increased and careful supervision.

INSTITUTIONS FOR CHILDREN.

BAPTIST ORPHANAGE.

(Fifty-eighth Street, Below Baltimore Avenue.)

Visited October 22, 1903.

In comparison with previous visits paid last year, we found some improvement. The bathing and toilet facilities should be improved. The children need discipline in order and the girls more practical instruction in housekeeping.

BETHESA CHILDREN'S CHRISTIAN HOME.

Near Wyndmoor Station, Chestnut Hill Branch of Reading Railroad.

Visited January 5, 1904.

Capacity, 150. Full at time of visit.

Four buildings house the children, one of which, being intended primarily for an infirmary, contains but few inmates. Children are kept here ten days before being assigned to any of the other buildings, as a safeguard against infection. Infectious cases developing in the home are removed to the Municipal Hospital. There were no sick children at the time of visit. One building houses the larger boys, another the larger girls; a third, very young boys and girls.

There is a kindergarten building, a nice laundry building, a nice stable, where four cows are kept, and two or three playhouses.

The larger children attend public school, also some of the smaller children. There is a small primary school at the home, also a kindergarten. This institution receives no State or City aid, but is dependent mainly on the charitable, though there is a small sum derived from some trust money. Relatives of children, if able, pay a small board for them, but many are taken without pay. Health of the children is generally very good; very little infection has ever attacked the institution. The home seems to nobly fulfill its purpose of being a home, for a healthier, happier lot of children could not be found.

CHURCH HOME FOR CHILDREN.

Fifty-eighth and Baltimore Avenue.

Visited October 22, 1903.

Sixty-eight children on day of visit.

Although this home has not adopted the late cottage theory, of separate sleeping rooms for the older girls, its management is so efficient, its care of the children so conscientious, that we must commend it as one of the best institutions of its class. Absolute order and cleanliness were apparent. Its private school is excellent.

Classes are also sent to the Drexel. Careful training in good house-keeping forms a part of the discipline.

FRIENDS' HOME FOR CHILDREN.

4011 Aspen Street.

Visited February 6 and October 24, 1903.

We cannot commend the condition of this home. The children looked unkempt. The toilet and bathrooms need attention. The bedding was not cleanly.

FOSTER HOME ASSOCIATION OF PHILADELPHIA.

Northwest Corner Twenty-fourth and Poplar Streets.

Visited February 4, 1904.

This is a temporary home for children whose parents are encouraged to take them back after a period of struggle or poverty. They have a cottage at Longport where the whole family goes for the summer. There sixty-eight children in the home at the time of our visit. They looked healthy and seemed happy, and there were no signs of the depression which sometimes is seen in institution children. The building is open on all sides and has large airy rooms. It was tolerably neat, though there were evidences of the need of paint and repairs in several places. The kitchen was very clean. The infirmary had been disinfected, but not cleaned, after an outbreak of chicken-pox. The matron has seven servants. Your visitor suggested to the matron that some one in charge ought to sleep close to the dormitories. The matron sleeps on one floor, the assistant matron on the one above; but their rooms are opposite, and as there is no night nurse it seemed to your visitor that some one should be nearer in case of illness, or any disturbance.

LUTHERAN ORPHANS' HOME AND ASYLUM FOR THE AGED AND INFIRM.

6950 Germantown Avenue.

Visited March 13, 1903.

One hundred children, thirty-eight aged people, on day of visit, were inmates in this institution. It is plain and simple in all its appointments, but scrupulously neat and clean in every department.

Physical culture, fancy work and a three-part choir have all recently been added to the children's curriculum.

INFANTS' HOME.

4618 Westminster Avenue.

Visited June 3, 1903.

There were 44 children on day of visit.

The home is in fair condition. The children looked well and comfortable.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL ORPHANAGE.

Monument and Belmont Avenues.

Visited March 3, 1903.

One hundred and five children were in the home on day of visit. We found the institution in good order and clean. The children appeared very healthy and well-cared for. We especially commend the custom of temporarily receiving the children of widows until they have readjusted their circumstances, and are able to provide a comfortable home for their family.

ORPHAN SOCIETY OF PHILADELPHIA.

Sixty-fourth Street and Lansdowne Avenue.

Visited March 5th and 10th, 1903.

This institution cares for some 53 children.

It exhibits careful management and good housekeeping. The children do not attend the public schools, but educational, gymnastic and industrial training are provided. On the day of visit, there were some 17 cases of typhoid fever, the cause of which was being carefully investigated. Your visitor cannot approve of draining refrigerators through trapped pipes into a sewer, as no such system can be insured against their getting out of order and being defective.

ST. MARGARET'S HOME FOR WORKING GIRLS.

5417 Germantown Avenue.

Visited January 11, 1904.

This home is for working girls under 25 years of age, and can accommodate 25.

The board is $3 per week. This, however, does not include the price asked for washing and ironing.

The support of the home is derived from the board of the inmates, supplemented by contributions.

Order and cleanliness prevailed throughout the entire house.

ST. VINCENT'S HOME AND MATERNITY HOSPITAL.

Seventieth and Woodland Avenue.

Visited April 7, 1993.

This institution is divided into three distinct departments, the nursery for babies, the home for older children, and the hospital for maternity cases. There are under its roof 458 children, and 32 babies, with paid wet-nurses, making a total of 490 under its care. During the year ending October, 1902, 1,010 children were provided for. They are kept until the age of 8, and a few even up to 9 years of age. The boys are then usually sent to St. John's Orphan Asylum, and the girls are found homes. Two hundred quarts of milk are taken daily, and no tea is given. Breakfast is of milk, bread and oatmeal; dinner, of meat and one vegetable; supper, of bread, milk and something sweet. The house was very clean and well ventilated. The infants, numbering 97, are in an older building, divided into many rooms. Great improvement was here noticed, but it is greatly to be desired that more babies could be sent out. In the maternity department, into which unmarried women only are taken and but once, there were 40 cases. It is divided into private rooms for patients who can pay, and large rooms holding four or five beds each for free patients. This department has its own nurses, and is entirely shut off from the rest of the building. There are 15 Sisters of Charity in charge, and 7 paid servants; but the mothers who can assist in the work are expected to do so. The older children have classes, but there is no kindergarten. One of the chief improvements in the home is in the new iron beds, with new bedding, which now replace most of the old wooden ones. There has been no contagious illness this winter. There is a separate building for isolation, which can take 50 cases, if necessary.

BEDFORD STREET MISSION.

617-621 Kater Street.

Visited March 10, 1903.

For 50 years this mission has carried on a work of reform among the destitute poor, by caring for the little ones, helping the older ones, finding employment and improving neighborhood conditions. In a building but poorly adapted for the work, are the day nurseries, kindergarten, play, reading and sewing rooms; also bath-rooms for old and young. 90,000 baths having been taken during last summer season. Owing to lack of funds, the building is in poor condition, but the managers hope to enlarge and improve the house during the year. Neither State nor City aid is given for the work, which is entirely supported by voluntary subscriptions.

CATHEDRAL KINDERGARTEN AND DAY NURSERY.

303 North Nineteenth Street.

Visited April 8, 1903.

The average number of children here is from 35 to 40. They are taken from the age of one month to that of eight years. Mothers pay five cents a day, when able to do so. The older children are all sent to the Cathedral schools. The house is open all the year round. There is a play-ground at the corner which belongs to the nursery, and the children are also sent to Logan Square for exercise. The house is not well adapted to its use, and is illy ventilated. The kitchen and the storeroom are in the basement, and all the laundry work is done in the kitchen. A new building is hoped for soon. There are three servants and a matron.

THE YOUNG WOMEN'S UNION OF PHILADELPHIA.

Corner of Fifth and Bainbridge.

Visited January 11, 1904.

In the convenient and well-appointed building belonging to this association, many branches of charitable work have gradually developed, in response to the demands of the neighborhood in which it is situated.

Originally designed for the maintenance of a day nursery only, in addition to it, there are now in successful operation a shelter, kindergarten, gymnasium, library and serving school, besides evening classes and clubs.

The work has been recently extended to include an effort to provide for the moral protection and preservation of young girls, and to keep them off the street by furnishing agreeable employment, instruction and entertainment during the evening hours. The good already accomplished in this direction affords encouragement for a continuance of the same.

The rooms in all the different departments of the house are bright and attractive, and kept in a state of perfect order and cleanliness. Much commendation is due the management for the energy and perseverance that have brought the undertaking to its present condition of success.

The financial support is principally derived from an allowance made by the Federation of Jewish Charities.

HOMES FOR ADULTS.

HOME OF LITTLE SISTERS OF THE POOR.

Eighteenth Street, Above Jefferson Street.

Visited April 7, 1903.

This institution takes care of the aged poor, regardless of creed or nationality, and is supported entirely by the daily collections made by the Sisters, of food, money, clothing, and private subscriptions. Eighteen Sisters compose the working staff, and, with the assistance of a few of the inmates, do all the necessary work. The building is large, and can accommodate 280 inmates. At the above date, every bed was in use, and many persons were waiting for admission. It is well ventilated, being open on all sides to plenty of light and air. The inmates are well cared for, and every department is scrupulously neat and clean, the Sisters, therefore, deserving the highest commendation.

HAYES MECHANICS' HOME.

Belmont Avenue.

Visited March 20, 1903.

This institution is a model of good housekeeping. Your visitor always enjoys inspecting its neat and comfortable bedrooms, the exquisitely clean kitchen, refrigerators, storerooms, etc. There were 64 inmates, seemingly cheerful and happy. The Matron said she had 8 servants, including the engineer, but she wished for one more. One woman has charge of 30 rooms. The long corridors, staircases and sitting rooms were all in excellent order. Your visitor is always impressed in this institution with the happy effect on the inmates of pursuing their occupations. They show a cheerful self-respect in their demeanor and expression, which seems the result of work.

PENNSYLVANIA INDUSTRIAL HOME FOR BLIND WOMEN.

3827 Powelton Avenue.

Visited May 7, 1903.

There were 67 inmates.

The standard of this home had evidently been raised since our last visit. Many improvements in plumbing and house-furnishing were in progress, while increased carefulness in supervision has led to good results. The admirable cane-seating work done by the women should receive greater support from the public.

THE HOUSE OF MERCY FOR CONSUMPTIVE MEN.

411 Spruce Street.

Visited November 30, 1903.

This house accommodates 12 men. There were 10 at time of visit, two having just left, and two being about to arrive.

The house in which the work is carried on was formerly a dwelling-house. It is old and shabby, but neat and very clean. It is in the care of an excellent Matron, who has had charge for more than twenty years.

The men receive the attention of a trained nurse, and every effort is made to promote their comfort. There is a roof garden at the rear of the house, on the second floor, which is fitted up for their use, it being an endeavor to give them as much fresh air as is possible in a neighborhood so densely populated.

Your visitor was told that, whenever their funds permit, the managers hope to purchase a farm, and remove the men to it, that they may have the benefit of an outdoor life, but she learned with regret that the prospect of so desirable a change was but remote at the present time.

HOUSE OF REST FOR THE AGED OF THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF THE DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Situated Corner Wayne Avenue and West Haines Street, Germantown, Philadelphia.

Visited January 12, 1904.

This home is in what was formerly a spacious private house. Its capacity is 14. It had 7 inmates the day your visitor was there—all women. The house seemed in beautiful order, and the inmates appeared to have comfortable accommodations.

The working staff consists of matron, cook and house-maid.

ST. ANN'S ASYLUM FOR WIDOWS.

212 Franklin Street, on Franklin Square.

This institution is in charge of the Sisters of St. Joseph. Here about 45 widows are admitted, on the payment of such sums as they are able to bring—sometimes $500, sometimes as much as $2,000. It is permitted to each one to have her own furniture and belongings in her room. All the rooms are single, which makes the inmates happier, but results in less uniform order and neatness in the appearance of the house. There are no servants. These good Sisters do all for the poor old inmates that they cannot do for themselves. Your visitor was struck with their evident affection for the Sister in charge, and with their happy expression. She regrets to say, therefore, that the kitchen, etc., were not so neat as could be wished. The old women do their own washing as far as they are able. While it may be true that the institution is not up to the highest standard of neatness, it is evident that here 45 old women find a happy refuge for their last days.

There are no reports except occasionally to the Archbishop.

ST. MARK'S HOME FOR AGED WOMEN.

1428 Lombard Street.

Visited November 10, 1903.

This small institution is supported by St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal Church, and is under the immediate care of the Sisters of St. Margaret, who live in the adjoining house. There is room for 8 inmates only, and this number were present on the day of our visit. The second-story front room is fitted up as a chapel, in which daily services are held. Each inmate has a room to herself, and the rooms are bright and cheerful, but the house throughout is in need of renovation. The Sister in charge, while expressing her inability to understand by what right we visited an institution of a private character, very courteously showed us through the house.

TEMPORARY HOME FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

505 North Sixth Street.

Visited March 10, 1903.

The object of this home is to give temporary care to women out of employment, and to take charge of destitute children until they can be placed in suitable homes. The capacity of the house is 27. There were 26 women in the home at this date, and no children.

The charge for board is from $2.50 to $3 per week. The women do their own washing, and care for their own rooms. As the intention is that they shall find employment as soon as possible, they are not given many duties about the house.

The house was comfortable and clean throughout, and a pleasant spirit of friendliness prevailed between Matron and inmates. This is a very unassuming charity, but capable of doing much good to a class of women who desire to be self-supporting, and, in their search for work, often suffer discomfort, and are exposed to temptation.

PENNSYLVANIA WORKING HOME FOR BLIND MEN.

3518 Lancaster Avenue.

Visited May 5, 1903.

There were 52 inmates.

We are glad to report improvement in this useful institution. The objectionable open toilet in the room used as an "infirmary" has been entirely enclosed. Bath-tubs were being renovated, and a thorough cleaning was in progress. The yearly deficit is caused by paying the blind men 45 cents per dozen more for brooms than is received by the ordinary workman, who is not hampered by want of sight. The idea of the institution in giving work rather than alms cannot be too highly commended.

WAYFARERS' LODGE, NO. 1.

1720 Lombard Street.

Visited April 17, 1903.

This new building has been occupied about a year. It is well arranged for its purpose. The capacity for men is 200; for women, 12. A night's lodging is given, but, in return, work is required of the men in the woodyard, and of the women in the house. There is no communication between the men's side of the building and that of the women. The dormitories are very well aired, and the whole house is spotlessly clean. The men are obliged to bathe, before going to bed, when clean night-clothes and bed-linen are given them. There is a reading room on the first floor, and a smoking-room in the basement. The building has fire-escapes and two fire-towers.

STATISTICS

FOR

1903.

The statistical report is sub-divided into two parts, the first comprising criminal statistics, the second statistics of the unfortunate and indigent classes.

Criminal statistics are classified as follows: Proceedings of Criminal Courts, as presented in the returns of their prothonotaries or clerks; convicts and prisoners in penitentiaries, county prisons, work house and House of Correction; juvenile delinquents in the reformatories of the State.

Statistics of the unfortunate and indigent classes, viz: Inmates of Hospitals for Insane, Training Schools for feeble-minded children, institutions for deaf and dumb, for instruction of blind, almshouses, out-door relief in almshouse districts, hospitals, homes, etc.

CRIMINAL STATISTICS.

CRIMINAL COURT PROCEEDINGS.

An analyses of the returns of the prothonotaries or clerks of the criminal courts for the year ending September 30, 1903, shows the criminal proceedings of grand juries, as compared with the preceding year, have increased and the court proceedings increase thus:

Grand Jury and Court Proceedings.	1903.	1902.	Increase on 1902.	Per cent. of increase.
Grand Jury Proceedings.
Number of persons charged with crime, ...	29,337	29,033	304	1.04

Criminals Executed in Pennsylvania.

By the act of April 22, 1794, the punishment of death, except for murder in the first degree, was abolished. The following statement exhibits the number of criminals executed within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from 1778 to 1902, a period of one hundred and twenty-five (125) years:

														Whole number executed,.....	398 398

*This execution, and all subsequent ones, took place in the jail yard, agreeably to act of April 10, 1834. Previous executions were all public.

The reader will remember that after April, 1794, as has been stated, executions were only for murder in the first degree.

For the number of executions reported from 1839 to 1903, we are indebted to the courtesy of the Honorable Secretary of the Commonwealth.

STATISTICS OF CONVICTS AND PRISONERS.

The population of the number of criminal classes on September 30, 1903, in penitentiaries, industrial reformatory, county jails, work-houses and house of correction, of all classes; convicts summarily convicted by justices of peace, or awaiting trial or sentence, was 7,879, being an increase of 633 on the number at corresponding date of previous year, 1902.

The number in each of the several institutions was as follows:

Criminal Cases.	Convicts.					Prisoners Summarily Convicted by Justice of the peace, etc.
	Penitentiaries.	Industrial reformatory.	County prisons.	Work house.	Total convicts.	In county prisons.	In work house.	In house of correction.	Held for trial or hearing, fines, costs, etc., and awaiting sentence or execution thereof.	Aggregate.

*Increase.

†The slight discrepancy between this account and that given in the report of the board for the year 1902, is due to a mistake made by a sheriff retiring from office which was not apparent until the next return was received from the new incumbent.

We learn that there was an increase in convicts of 151, as compared with the number at corresponding date of previous year, 1902; an increase of 126 in the penitentiaries; an increase of 47 in the industrial reformatory; an increase of one in county prisons; an increase of 23 in workhouses.

Convicts.

The number of males and females, and their decrease in the penal institutions, as compared with the previous year, is thus presented:

Convicts.	Sex of Convicts in Confinement.								Aggregate.

*Increase.

†The slight discrepancy between this account and that given in the report of the board for the year 1902, is due to a mistake made by a sheriff retiring from office which was not apparent until the next return was received from the new incumbent.

It will be observed that in the penitentiaries the number of males increased 127, and the females decreased one.

In the industrial reformatory the males increased 47.

In the county prisons the males increased 7, and the females decreased 6.

In the workhouses the males decreased 14, and the females decreased 9.

In the aggregate of the convicts there has been an increase of 151, as compared with the same date of the previous year.

The whole number of convicts, 4,236, is in proportion of the population of the State as one to every 1,595 inhabitants. Population of the State being estimated at 6,750,000 for the year 1903.

STATISTICS OF PENITENTIARIES.

The revenue of these institutions is derived from appropriation by State, labor of convicts, profits on manufacturing, United States for supporting their prisoners, and from counties for deficiency of support by labor of their convicts.

State Appropriations.

The State grant to the penitentiaries for 1903 was $154,575, viz: For salaries, $133,500; for ordinary repairs, $1,500; for books and stationery for convicts, $1,000; for insurance, $3,000; for steam heating, $7,500; for addition to cook house, $5,000; for new doors and frames for first block, $600; for new doors and locks for third block, $225; for covering yard walls and improving grounds, $500; for additional wiring, $1,000, and for hospital equipment, $750.

Note.—The financial year of the penitentiaries ends December 31. It requires a month or so of time of the year following to close the accounts of the previous year. Therefore, in order that the annual report of this Board may not be delayed, the accounts of the year preceding the date of each publication are used.

EASTERN PENITENTIARY.

Tobacco and Liquor.

No liquors, either malt or spirituous, are furnished convicts in these institutions, except upon the order of physician. Their total cost during the year was $104.54, viz: Eastern Penitentiary, $60.39; Western Penitentiary, $44.25. Tobacco is allowed in the Eastern Penitentiary by order of physician, and when sent to prisoners by friends, or when purchased by the prisoners; in the Western Penitentiary it is issued under authority of act of April 16, 1866. Amount expended for it during the year was $2,884.11, viz: Eastern Penitentiary, $1,208.47; Western Penitentiary, $1,675.64.

Overwork.

As an auxilliary to discipline, and to promote habits of industry and economy, a system of overwork has been established in each of these penitentiaries. In the Eastern Penitentiary, the convict is allowed one-half of the work done over the allotted task, the other half being credited to the respective counties from which received; while, in the Western Penitentiary, the convict used to receive the full value of all overwork. The aggregate amount earned or credited to the convicts during the year was $3,606.13, an increase of $851.80.

The following statement exhibits the overwork in detail:

Necrological Statement.

During the year ending September 30, 1903, there were three deaths.

COUNTY PRISONS AND WORKHOUSES.

There are sixty-seven county jails in this State, a workhouse and a House of Correction.

Prisoners who have been sentenced by court to serve terms of imprisonment or to be hung are classed as "convicts," while, for convenience of designation, all prisoners committed for trial or hearing, in default of payment of fines or costs, for contempt of court, or under sentence of justices of peace, are classed under the general head of "untried prisoners, etc."

To a proper understanding of these statistics, it must be borne in mind that the former class is not in addition to the latter class, but grows out of it; that convicts, in short, have, for the most part, been originally "untried prisoners." Of course, however, in considering the population of the jails at any given date, the two classes must be added to arrive at the total.

The number of prisoners of the several classes at the beginning of the year, the number added thereto, the number discharged, and the number remaining at the end of the year, are shown as follows:

Movement of Criminal Classes.	Convicts.	Untried prisoners, etc.
In prison on October 1, 1902, ...	*1,926	3,141
Added during the year, ...	4,776	75,749
Whole number confined, ...	6,702	78,890
Number discharged, ...	4,798	75,247
In prison on September 30, 1903, ...	1,904	3,643

*The slight discrepancy between this account and that given in the last annual report of the Board is due to a mistake in a return received from one of the county prisons for 1902 which was not apparent until after the receipt of the return for last year.

If to the above be added the 1,782 convicts in the penitentiaries, and the 550 in the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory at Huntingdon, the total of all criminal classes will be found to have been 7,879 on September 30, 1903, as follows:

Classification.	Number.	Per Cent.
Convicts in
Penitentiaries, ...	1,782
Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory, ...	550

It will be observed that, of the 7,879 prisoners in confinement on September 30, 1903, 4,236, or 53.76 per cent., more than one-half, were convicts; 2,320, or 29.45 per cent., were prisoners serving terms of sentence of justices of peace; 1,023, or 12.98 per cent., were held for trial or hearing; 65, or .83 per cent., were awaiting sentence or execution of sentence, and 235, or 2.98 per cent., were held for fines or costs or contempt of court.

Of the 4,236 convicts, 1,782, or 42.07 per cent., were confined in the State penitentiaries; 550, or 12.98 per cent., in the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory; 1,555, or 36.71 per cent., in county jails, and 349, or 8.24 per cent., in the workhouse at Allegheny.

Of the 2,320 serving terms of sentence of justices of peace, 826, or 35.60 per cent., were in county jails; 574, or 24.74 per cent., in the Allegheny Workhouse, and 920, or 39.66 per cent., in the House of Correction at Philadelphia.

Untried Prisoners, Etc.

This class embraces all prisoners not serving the sentence of court to terms of imprisonment, and not sentenced to be hung. The number of such persons in the county prisons, the workhouse and the House of Correction during the year ending September 30, 1903, was as follows:

*Decrease. †None in 1903. ‡Same as in 1902.

The convicts committed to these institutions have increased, as compared with the previous year, 376, or 8.55 per cent. Of the convicts, 4,113, or 86.12 per cent., were sentenced to county jails, and 663, or 13.88 per cent., to the Allegheny County Workhouse. The convicts sentenced to the county jails increased 336, or 8.90 per cent., and those sentenced to the workhouse increased 40, or 6.42 per cent.

The convict population of the county jails and the workhouse, during the year ending September 30, 1903, was 6,702, of whom 6,119, or 91.30 per cent., were males, and 583, or 8.70 per cent., were females.

There were discharged 4,798, or 71.59 per cent., of the population; of the sexes separately, 4,364 males, or 71.32 per cent. of the male population; and 434 females, or 74.44 per cent. of the female population.

The following table will show what disposition was made of the convicts discharged during the year ending September 30, 1903:

Heredity.

There were three children of consanguineous parentage (first cousins) reported during the past year. Such parentage, particularly in cases where there is also an inherited tendency to the defect, undoubtedly results in the production of much deafness, and the tendency to this defect seems to be greater in the intermarriage of second cousins than in that of first cousins. Investigations abroad, especially in France and in Germany, have brought to light most interesting and instructive facts in regard to inherited and consanguineous deafness. It is certain that the defect may be an inherited one, and it is equally certain that inherited tendencies are greatly intensified by consanguinity, and not only is deafness thus procreated through careless, one might say criminal, neglect of known physiological laws, but allied defects of blindness, feeble-mindedness and insanity are known to be transmitted from generation to generation in the same manner. In the sixty families that sent new pupils to us during the past year, there was much deafness; in one, there were two deaf daughters; in three, there were six deaf sons, two in each family; in another, there were two deaf daughters and a deaf son, and in another the mother and mother's sister were deaf, the father's cousin, and two daughters and one son. In this last family, the parents were first cousins.

Trades.

The value of the work accomplished and material used during the year in the various departments:

	Labor	Material.
In the shoe shop, ...	$1,879 72	$1,897 29
In the tailor shop, ...	1,590 33	2,604 08

In the painting and glazing department, ...	619 14	577 60
Total, ...	$11,866 02	$10,083 39

Instruction.

The same methods of instruction were pursued as in the preceding year. The great majority of the pupils, 94 per cent., were taught by oral methods; the remainder were taught by manual methods. Much attention was given to industrial training to all pupils of proper age, and two hours weekly were given to physical culture. For these purposes the school is divided into three departments, the intellectual, the industrial and the physical, each under the care of an experienced head; all departments are under one general head, (the superintendent). They work harmoniously together, and seek to promote the best welfare of the pupils in the way of intellectual development, in physical growth, and in acquiring an expert knowledge of some handicraft that shall prove a means of self support on leaving the institution.

Library.

The library now contains some 6,000 volumes. A valuable set of Encyclopedia Britannica was presented to the school during the year, together with a number of volumes of American and English history. Reading clubs were formed for the older pupils, and a good supply of magazines and papers provided. Class libraries were also maintained as in other years.

Applications.

All applicants of proper age, and in good mental and physical condition, were admitted.

Pupils at the Close of the Year.

Heredity.

We cannot rely upon the answers given on our blanks, as families so frequently desire to conceal hereditary taint.

Trades.

All children who are old enough have instruction in light household duties.

Instruction.

The pupils are taught the speech and language that hearing children learn before the school age. They live a natural home life, eating at a table with the principal, teachers and housemothers, and are constantly guided to the use and understanding of speech and language. To this end they are under the care of the housemothers when not with the teacher, whose duty it is to train them gradually in the language of the play-rooms, bed-rooms and also out-door language.

The work is carried on on the cottage system; each cottage is built for thirty pupils. The course is uninterrupted by vacations, just as our learning to talk was uninterrupted. It is intended to prepare the children to be educated with the hearing.

The children are also carefully trained in all domestic duties of which their age makes them capable. All of them receive the Swedish gymnastic training, and the older ones have manual training in clay modeling and wood work.

All of the children who have completed our course are being most successfully educated in schools with hearing children, and their teachers report that they have no difficulty whatever in teaching them in schools with the hearing children.

Pupils Discharged.

During the year ending September 30, 1903, nine pupils were discharged.

Second. The younger brother of a pupil is blind.

Third. The grandfather of a pupil blind from youth, and a grandmother became blind at 60 years of age.

Fourth. At least one relative of each of the nine other pupils is blind, or has defective sight, resulting from old age, disease or accident.

Fifth. A great uncle of a pupil was born blind.

Population of the Institution.

The population of the institution for the year ending September 30, 1903, was 126, viz., 59 males, 67 females.

Health.

We regret to be forced to report that the general health of the institution during the past year was not as good as formerly. Scarlet fever, diphtheria and measles were introduced into the school by pupils who had come into contact with the diseases somewhere outside. Sickness on account of these several diseases continued through a period of about seven months. Fortunately we had no deaths among our pupils.

Necrology.

There was no death of any one connected with the institution during the past year.

ALMSHOUSES.

Almshouses.

There are 79 regular almshouses in this State, 43 of which are county institutions, and 36 of which are local or district poorhouses. In addition to these there are a number of small structures that are used for the accommodation of the poor, but they are only temporary houses, and grant but partial support. The aggregate number of inmates of these institutions, at the beginning of the year (October 1, 1902,) was 12,958. To these 19,596 were added during the year, making a population of 32,554. There were 19,303 discharged during the year, leaving, at the end of the year (September 30, 1903,) 13,251 resident in the almshouses, thus:

Movement of Population.	Adults.			Children.	Aggregate.

Remaining September 30, 1903, ...	7,752	5,080	12,832	419	13,251

*The slight discrepancy between this account and that given in the last Annual Report of the Board is due to mistakes made in returns received by the Board which were not apparent until the returns for last year were furnished.

The admissions, 19,259, as compared with the previous year, decreased 1,018, or 50.20 per cent. The adults admitted decreased 1,048, or 5.54 per cent., while the children increased 30, or 2.21 per cent.

Of the number admitted, 13,237, or 68.73 per cent., were men; 4,635, or 24.06 per cent., were women; (the adults, therefore, comprising more than nine-tenths of the number admitted), and 1,387, or 7.21 per cent., were children.

In addition to the number admitted, 337 were born in almshouses.

Of the 17,872 adults admitted, 117 were reported blind, and 49 deaf and dumb.

Discharged From Almshouses.

The population of the almshouses, during the year ending September 30, 1903, was 32,554, of which number 19,303, or 59.30 per cent., were discharged.

Of the adults (30,457), there were 17,625, or 57.87 per cent., and of the children (2,097), there were 1,678, or 80.02 per cent., discharged.

The proportion of men and women discharged from their respective populations was as 63 to 47.

The following statement will exhibit how the 20,449 inmates were discharged:

How Discharged.	Adults.			Children.	Total discharged.	Per cent. on population.
	Men.	Women.	Total.

Vagrants.

The vagrants relieved in almshouse districts are considered separately, as they represent a different class from the inmates of almshouses, or the persons in receipt of out-door relief, who, for the most part, are the deserving poor, or those that have become destitute through old age or misfortune.

The number relieved during the year ending September 30, 1903, as compiled from the returns made to the Board of Public Charities, was as follows:

Number Aided.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Decrease on number of previous year.	Per cent. of decrease.
In almshouses, ...	19,452	490	19,942	457	3.66
By out-door relief, ...	258	75	333	9	2.61
Total, ...	19,710	565	20,275	766	3.64

Of the total number of vagrants, 19,710, or 97.21 per cent., were males; and 565, or 2.79 per cent., were females.

Of the number relieved in almshouses, 97.54 per cent. were males, and 2.46 per cent. were females. The number of vagrants decreased 766, or 3.64 per cent., as compared with the previous year.

It was also reported that transportation was furnished to 630 vagrants.

The number of lodgings reported to have been furnished vagrants during the year ending September 30, 1903, was as follows:

Lodgings furnished.	Number.	Decrease on number of previous year.	Per cent of decrease.
In almshouses, ...	19,213	502	2.54
By out-door relief, ...	160	*49	*41.14
Total, ...	19,403	453	2.28

*Increase.

The number of lodgings granted decreased 453, or 2.28 per cent., on the number of the previous year.

The number of meals reported to have been granted to vagrants during the year ending September 30, 1903, was as follows:

Meals Furnished.	Number.	Decrease on number of previous year.	Per cent of decrease.
In almshouses, ...	43,608	3,803	8.02
By out-door relief, ...	488	*50	*11.41
Total, ...	44,096	3,753	7.84

It will be observed that the foregoing statement does not include lodgers in station-houses of cities, (of which class we have no returns), or vagrants assisted under the township relief system.

Indigent persons supported in almshouse districts in other institutions than almshouses, and in private families, during the year ending September 30, 1903.

The following table will show how these persons were classified:

Institutions.	Number.
In homes for children and in private families, ...	870
In hospitals for the insane, ...	5,595
In Morganza Reform School, ...	228
In training schools for the feeble-minded, ...	228
In other institutions, ...	644
Total, ...	8,405

a. The financial returns for the year under consideration by our Annual Report can never be obtained in time for publication therein. Hence those for the year previous have to be inserted.

b. No report for 1903 was received from this almshouse, notwithstanding that many efforts were made to obtain it. Hence the report for 1903 is here inserted.

c. This almshouse had no inmates during the year 1902.

d. Cost of maintaining children in the Industrial home at Martinsburg.

e. The cost of medicine is included in this item, as it could not be separated from the salary of the physician.

f. This item includes the cost of the Greene County Home for Children which amounted to $3,462.34.

g. As this institution was not opened for inmates until June 1, 1902, this report covers the period from that time until December 31 (seven months), except as regards the cost of the buildings and their equipment.

h. This includes farm expenses, which could not be separated.

i. This amount is based on the total current expenses, excluding the cost of "furniture and bedding and other dry goods," as that formed a part of the equipment of the new institution.

j. Cost of new almshouse.

k. Cost of the Washington County Home for Children.

IMMIGRANTS IN INSTITUTIONS.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE LEGISLATURE.

Approved April 24, 1893.

Whereas, Our institutions, such as hospitals, asylums, almshouses, etc., are full to overflowing, and the number of inmates are constantly increasing, so as to demand the enormous sum of $1,459,700 to still further enlarge our facilities for the care and maintenance of those who become dependent upon public bounty, and with a view to ascertain, as correctly as possible, reliable statistics on the question of how many inmates of said institution are aliens; therefore,

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the State Board of Charities notify all institutions within the State to report to them annually, under oath or affirmation, the number of such inmates, whence they came and how long resident in this or other states previous to their coming here, and hereafter that the board shall include the same in its annual report to the Governor, the Senate and House of Representatives, for their consideration and action thereon, as they may deem necessary.

Extracts from the Journal of the House of Representatives.

CHARLES E. VOORHEES,
Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

The foregoing resolution concurred in.

E. W. SMILEY,
Chief Clerk of the Senate.

Approved—The 24th day of April, A. D. 1893.

ROBERT E. PATTISON.

OFFICE OF THE COMMITTEE ON LUNACY,

1225 Sansom Street, Philadelphia, where all communications relating to the insane (public or private patients) should be addressed. Information free of charge, may be obtained at said office for the admission and transfer of patients, indigent and private, to Hospitals.

REPORT OF SECRETARY.

In presenting this, his first annual report, the secretary desires to voice the regret of the committee that there has existed a necessity for change in the office he now holds.

Dr. Wetherhill, who so long and ably occupied the position of secretary, after nobly struggling against the inroads of disease, was compelled to bow to the inevitable, and by reason of rapidly increasing physical inability felt it incumbent upon him to resign his duties, and on November 30, 1902, his resignation was accepted by the committee. His duties had been ably and intelligently performed, and the records of the committee bear abundant witness of his zeal and fidelity. In severing official relations existing it was the pleasure of the committee to place in his hands a communication expressive both of regret and sympathy.

The office work attendant upon proper compliance with the requirements of the Lunacy Law and the rules and regulations of the Committee on Lunacy has been in several directions largely increased.

It affords the secretary much pleasure to bear testimony to the industry, accuracy and willingness of the clerical force, whose intelligent and zealous work has assisted him much in his successful conduct of the duties of the office.

During the year 883 communications have been written, besides the sending to the various institutions the semi-annual blank forms required for information as to their condition.

The movement of population among the hospitals has been about as usual, but as this is thoroughly stated in the tables appended, it is unnecessary here to recapitulate. The transfers granted have numbered 216, all of which have been for good and sufficient reasons; among them, however, it is the pleasure of your secretary to state, have not appeared any dissatisfaction with the management of the hospitals, nor the treatment of patients. Quite a number have been from counties caring for their quiet chronic insane to the State Hospitals in cases where an exacerbation of disease rendered it necessary for removal to these institutions where the acutely insane can be properly cared for.

During the year the secretary, in the performance of his duty, has visited all hospitals and county homes wherein have been domiciled the insane, and can report that almost invariably a good condition exists. There were some exceptions and these caused more by ignorance of proper methods than by any intent of carelessness or indifference, and a proper explanation has served to remedy the defects.

The character of the buildings assigned to the insane in some of the counties is such as to preclude the care and attention that should be bestowed upon these unfortunates, and your secretary would call the attention of the committee to this subject, urging that measures be adopted looking to the remedying of this defect or the removal of the insane entirely from such counties as cannot give to their insane the care and comfort requisite. The frequent changes in those having charge of these houses of detention is another much to be deplored factor, but as this is mainly due to the ever-shifting political conditions, there would seem no present method by which it could be obviated.

In the report of 1901 presented to you by the secretary who filled the position at that time, it was stated that the increasing number of suicides in the community at large had been proportionately paralleled by the number of suicides or suicidal attempts in the institutions for insane. Your present secretary states with thankfulness that such has not been the case during the past year. There have been fewer suicides reported, and in every case the report has been accompanied by certification of the coroner and his jury that no censure could be attached to the institution in which the death occurred. Taking into consideration the recognized shrewdness and cunning of certain demented, it can scarcely be a matter of surprise that opportunities would sometimes present themselves opening the way to much to be deplored results, and without any reflection upon the watchfulness of and precautionary measures of those in authority.

There have been cases in which harsh treatment has been exercised upon patients by the attendants and every such case has, upon investigation, been followed by peremptory discharge of the offender, and in all aggravated cases, by legal prosecution and punishment.

The condition of institutions working under the County Care Act is very satisfactory and yielding much encouragement to the advocates of that act. Failure in certain points to comply with the requirements of the Committee on Lunacy has resulted not from any disposition so to do, but from misunderstanding, and upon notification and more definite instruction these delinquencies have been most cheerfully remedied. During the year Potter county has availed itself of the act, and by the erection of handsome and commodious buildings has furnished an excellent and comfortable home for its quiet and chronic insane. Under a competent medical superintendent, an excellent steward, and zealous and intelligent county authorities, the institution has proved itself a decided success.

The secretary, upon the request of the State Board of Pardons, has made two examinations into the mental condition of men under sentence of death for murder in the first degree. The one was in Northumberland county, the prisoner having been tried for and convicted of the killing of his mother and brother. The conditions were such, as in the judgment of the examiner, to unmistakably show that the prisoner was a paranoic, and the recommendation made was that his sentence be commuted to imprisonment for life within the confines of a penitentiary. This was carried into effect by the Board of Pardons. The other case was a prisoner confined in Delaware county prison under sentence of death for having killed his housekeeper. In this instance, your secretary was compelled to decide that the insanity was simulated, and his sentence was carried into effect. Before his execution, however, indisputable evidence was afforded that no insanity existed.

At the request of the Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Reformatory at Huntingdon an investigation was made into the mental condition of several prisoners.

At the Eastern Penitentiary an examination was made as to the sanity of a prisoner, resulting in his transfer by order of the Court to a State hospital for insane.

Any suggestions that might occur to the secretary for presentation to your consideration have already been touched upon by the able chairman of your committee in his report to the Board of Public Charities, and, therefore, in this paper need no reiteration.

Your secretary cannot feel that his duty has been properly discharged in closing his report without reference to the medical superintendents of the various hospitals, both state and private. Nor is it duty alone, but also pleasure that impels him to this public expression of official satisfaction. Without exception, these superintendents have shown themselves not only skilful in their professional capacity, but untiring in their efforts for the care, comfort and happiness of the unfortunates under their charge. Zealous, ambitious for the highest standard to be reached by their hospitals, and unselfish in their devotion to duty, combined with a high degree of executive ability, they form a body of men whose worth cannot be properly appreciated by the general public—a corps which, let us trust, may long be intact. The relations existing between these superintendents and the writer have been of the most cordial character, rendering them not only officially but personally his friends, a feeling which he trusts may be to some degree, at least, reciprocal.

In concluding, permit your secretary to thank you, Gentlemen of the Committee, for the cordial support, willing assistance and unvarying kind courtesy ever extended him.

GEO. I. MacLEOD,
Secretary.

REPORT OF CHAIRMAN, HON. ISAAC JOHNSON.

Office of the Committee on Lunacy of Board of Public Charities.
To the Board of Public Charities of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: In obedience to the law, the Committee on Lunacy herewith presents to your honorable board its twenty-first annual report for the year ending September 30, 1903. In its your committee desires to lay before you the number and condition of the insane in all institutions in Pennsylvania with statistical and other matters of value or of interest pertaining to the same.

There is abundant cause for satisfaction in the general management of our institutions, thus continuing the general high standard our State has achieved in the care and attention of the unfortunates committed to its supervision. This is not confined alone to the State institutions, but is shared by those coming under the County Care Act, and, in a measure, by counties not yet having accepted the provisions of this act. In these latter there have been improvements in the character of buildings intended for housing the insane, although your committee reluctantly admits that in certain counties there is yet very abundant need for advancement.

The total number of insane under a commitment on September 30, 1902, was 12,066, of which 4,034 were under county care. On the same date, 1903, (this date being close of institutional year), the census reports from the various hospital, sanatoria, etc., gives 12,732, showing an increase for the year 1903 of 666.

A moments consideration of the increment of the insane for the year startlingly reveals the crying necessity existing for increased accommodation of this unfortunate class. There has been added to the insane of the Commonwealth during two years past 984, an average of 492 per annum. For the last decade a constant increase has been shown. At the close of 1893 the number of insane was 8,104, while at the close of 1903 the number reaches 12,732, showing the average of increase for ten years to have been 462.8.

The cause of this constant growth in number is not for this report to indicate, and may be left to alienists who have made it a matter of study resulting in presentation of divers hypotheses. What particularly interests and affects the community is, that the increase does exist, and thus existing, how is the devolving responsibility to be met. Further consideration of this question will be entered into at a later stage of this report.

Under county care during 1903, 4,509 insane have been cared for, being an increase of 475 over the preceding year.

The number of indigent insane is: Males, 6,241; females, 5,461; total, 11,702; while private patients in all institutions number: males 429; females, 601; total, 1,030; bringing the whole number as shown in above table to 12,732.

State Hospitals.

The six State hospitals continue the same excellent management characterizing them in the past, and notwithstanding their constant over-crowding have succeeded in bestowing a high degree of comfort and care upon their patients. That they have been overtaxed is a palpable fact, as the original capacity of the several hospitals has been and continues to be very far exceeded. In one at least the trustees have been compelled to close the doors against the admission of all new patients save those committed by an order of court. The melancholy results of such necessitous action must appear and appeal to all who pause to consider the need for a haven and a home for the acute insane. To a limited degree this congested condition will find relief upon the completion of the new hospital at Allentown, the erection of which will be entered upon early in the coming year and advanced to completion rapidly as practicable. In the meantime, however,—What?

The trustees of the State hospital at Harrisburg are making due and diligent use of the appropriation granted for prosecution of their new buildings. The plans of these with construction thereof have been presented in detail in former reports and need not recapitulation. For funds to advance the work your board recommended from the Legislature of 1903 an appropriation of $577,000, of which all save $5,000 was intended to be expended upon building operations. The Legislature deemed it wise, however, to grant but $252,500 for the new buildings, all of which will be prudently expended, although of course not sufficient to complete the buildings in accordance with the plans approved by the Board of Charities. It is a matter of regret that such reduction was required, but it was undoubtedly a matter of necessity, and the wisdom of the granting power is not for a moment questioned.

The health reports of the hospitals are excellent and most satisfactory.

The State Hospital at Danville requested the recommendation to the Legislature of the appropriation of $206,000, which sum, however, by the board was reduced to $201,000, and still farther by the Legislature to $121,000. This reduction eliminates some apparently needful features, among which was the erection of an infirmary for women, a much required addition.

From the State Hospital at Norristown came the request for recommendation of an appropriation of $201,000, which was acceded to by the Board of Charities. The Legislature granted an appropriation of $70,000, of which $55,000 was for the erection of two nurses' homes, being about one-third of amount applied for. The absolute necessity for such buildings has been sufficiently proven, for the removal of the living apartments of the nurses from the wards occupied by the patients, by conserving the health of so important a factor in hospital management, adds greatly to their energy and efficiency.

In this hospital there has been during the past year the completion and occupancy of the building intended for the isolation of consumptive patients. As by almost all medical authorities tuberculosis is recognized as a communicative disease, the urgent need for such building or buildings upon the grounds of every hospital cannot fail to be recognized.

The trustees of the State Hospital at Warren presented to the Board of Public Charities application to the Legislature of 1903 for an appropriation of $140,000 for various purposes, and received the grant of $68,000, about one-quarter of which was for reconstruction of plumbing in main building, another quarter for an electric light plant, an improvement sadly needed; $30,000 for building purposes, $5,000 for erection of Genestrom baths, and the remainder for various purposes. The new ward buildings at Colony Farm, with accommodation for eighty men, have, in a measure, relieved the congested condition of the main wards and in every way proved a complete success.

The need for a grant of $65,000 was felt by the trustees of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital for Insane at Dixmont, and the Board of Charities recommended to the Legislature of 1903 the full amount. Owing, however, to the condition of the State Treasury, it was deemed advisable to reduce the amount appropriated to $20,000, which is being judiciously expended.

The State Asylum at Wernersville requested from your board recommendation of $15,000, which was approved, but the appropriation granted by the Legislature was $11,000.

Condition of State Hospitals.

The condition of the State hospitals is most excellent. Every honest and earnest effort has been made by those in authority to advance the interests of the hospitals and in every way to conserve the good both mental and physical of those consigned to their care. The result of such efforts has been to install a condition of quiet and comfort even to those deprived of every hope of restoration.

Cost of Maintenance in State Hospitals.

The weekly per capita cost of maintenance in the different State hospitals is shown by the following table:

	Per Week.

Westmoreland County Home, ...	3	6	9
York County Home, ...	12	17	29
Total, ...	2,516	2,322	4,838

By this table it is shown that the number of indigent insane in local institutions in the State is 4,834. Of these 1,649 are inmates of Philadelphia Hospital, which, like the State hospitals, has been pressed far beyond its intended capacity. Strenuous efforts have been made to obviate this unfortunate condition, and there is good foundation for the hope that these efforts are about being crowned with success by the erection upon another site of new buildings. Allegheny county, containing the institutions of the city of Pittsburgh, at present caring for 1,099, naturally follows next, while the Central Poor District of Luzerne county, at Retreat, shows a total of 479. This admirable institution, richly equipped and most efficiently conducted, is doing most excellent work. The Hillside Hospital, with 310 inmates; Chester County Asylum, with 201 patients; the Lancaster County Hospital, with a census of 202, and the Blair County Home, with 97, are each continuing the excellent work that has hitherto characterized them, and with good results.

County Care.

As before mentioned, the number of patients maintained under provisions of County Care Act is 4,509; the males numbering 2,329, the females, 2,180. Sufficient length of time has now elapsed to enable an estimate to be formed of the usefulness and success of County Care, hitherto regarded as an experiment. The terms "usefulness" and "success," so far from being synonymous differ widely in the planes they occupy, the former indicating the higher of philanthropic sphere, and the latter the more material results. The first, pertaining to good achieved for the poor unfortunates needing care and supervision has, we consider, been abundantly demonstrated by the comfort and happiness imparted. By this is not signified that greater material comfort has been obtained than in the larger hospitals—for this could scarcely be—but that the environments have been such as to render the patients farther removed from the sense of isolation from their fellows, and the protracted exile from friends and home. Returned to the localities in which they have passed the years of sanity, in more immediate contact with their friends of youth or maturity, within easy access of those who are their natural caretakers and protectors, the class for which the County Care is intended enjoy a certain rest and content incompatible with those institutions wherein large numbers are necessarily congregated, and where everything tends to eradicate individuality. Conjoined with this is the abundant opportunity for out-door occupation with its consequent hygienic helpfulness. Thus the darkened days are made brighter, the clouds which enshroud are somewhat lifted and rendered lighter. The lower plane—that of success—is but secondary, relating to the relief afforded the over-populated State Hospitals, and to the fiscal affairs of the counties, accepting the provisions of the act, is not to be entirely overlooked. The experimental period has passed with the result that the enthusiastic advocates of the system have not their enthusiasm dampened; the conservatives are swerving more toward a more sanguine acceptance, while the determined opponents evince a more pronounced willingness to patiently wait for some assurance that some "good may come out of Nazareth."

Thus far but one county—Washington—has withdrawn acceptance, the county authorities finding that the local exchequer would not warrant the erection of buildings requisite for the housing of the insane.

The number of County Care" insane at close of year is shown in following table:

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Adams county, ...	16	30	46
Allegheny County Asylum, ...	240	163	403
Allegheny City Asylum, ...	114	101	215
Pittsburg City Asylum, ...	266	215	481
Blair county, ...	46	51	97
Chester county, ...	87	114	201
Cumberland county, ...	55	47	102
Elk county, ...	13	10	23

MOVEMENT OF POPULATION IN PUBLIC AND PRIVATE HOSPITALS FOR INSANE.

On September 30, 1903, the State hospitals, including the Asylum for Chronic Insane at Wernersville, contained 7,139 insane patients, distributed as follows:

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Harrisburg, ...	499	463	962
Danville, ...	491	532	1,123
Norristown, ...	1,126	1,189	2,315
Warren, ...	541	515	1,056
Dixmont, ...	496	390	886
Wernersville, ...	594	203	797
Total, ...	3,847	3,292	7,139

Upon September 30, 1903, there was an aggregate of 738 insane in the private hospitals and sanatoria of the State, divided as below:

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Pennsylvania Hospital for Insane, Philadelphia, ...	191	254	445
Friend's Asylum for Insane, Frankford, ...	59	99	158
Burn Brae Hospital for Insane, Primos, ...	19	12	31
St. Francis Hospital for Insane, Pittsburg, ...	22	55	77
Easton Sanitarium, Easton, ...	4	9	13
Innwood Sanitarium, West Conshohocken, ...		14	14
Total, ...	295	413	738

There exists same per centage of females in private hospitals over that in State hospitals, as developed in the report of 1902, and for which the same cause may probably be assigned.

RESULTS OF CARE AND TREATMENT.

State Hospitals.

The ratio of recoveries in State hospitals for the year is as follows:

Institutions.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Per cent.
Harrisburg, ...	39	45	84	7.4
Danville, ...	15	19	34	2.6
Norristown, ...	66	26	92	3.5
Warren, ...	32	23	55	5.2
Dixmont, ...	23	18	41	3.7
Aggregate percentage, ...	175	181	356	4.48

This tabulated statement, while accurate, may be somewhat deluding. In every hospital there will occur years in which a certain number of inmates approaching convalescence have not yet reached the condition of recovery at the termination of the hospital year. These necessarily enter into the statistical statements of the ensuing year, although the treatment of the preceding year can be credited with the restoration. Thus such an institution, while presenting a most favorable result in a given year should not be expected to retain the ratio of recoveries year after year, as such conditions cannot continually exist. The comparatively low rate of recoveries in our State hospitals is readily accounted for by the fact that a very large proportion of admissions is of the chronic insane, many of whom have been under treatment for a long period in other institutions. The result of treatment of such cases can, at best, necessarily be only an amelioration and not restoration. Careful comparison with reports as presented in other States shows that our own hospitals stand fully equal to any other in percentage of recoveries.

Deaths in State Hospitals.

The deaths in the State hospitals for the year have been 270 males, 213 females; a total of 483; being a percentage of 7.6. In private hospitals the deaths have been 23 males, 28 females; a total of 51; a percentage of 6.9.

Discharges.

	Males.	Females.	Total.
From State Hospitals, ...	336	272	608
From private hospitals, ...	129	123	252
From sanatoria, ...		28	28
Total, ...	465	423	888

The signification of this table must not be misapprehended. Discharges are granted under one of four heads: transfer, recovery, request of friends, or by order of court having committed. The last three of these are sub-divided, such division indicating condition of patient, viz: "Recovered," "Improved," "Unimproved"; an indigent patient may not be discharged unimproved without consent of Committee on Lunacy, but the restriction does not exist where improvement is manifest. In many such cases the disease affecting a patient may have assumed such a phase as to permit proper care being exercised at home. Hence, while the above statistical table is useful in indicating the movement of population, it is not to be regarded as a criterion of the mental condition of the patients directly concerned.

Race.

The number of white patients for the year has been: Males, 6,427; females, 5,863; total, 12,290; while the census of colored was males, 243; females, 199; a total of 442. As in the preceding year this number would seem at a cursory glance to be small, thereby implying that this race was to a degree exempt from mental disease. Careful examination, however, discloses the fact that the average number for each successive year keeps pace with the changing proportion of the colored race as exhibited in the census reports.

Nativity.

Of the population of the State and other hospitals for insane, the following table is both useful and interesting:

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Native born, ...	4,274	4,015	8,289
Foreign born, ...	2,062	1,830	3,912
Unknown, ...	314	217	531
Total, ...	6,670	6,062	12,732

From this resumé it will be observed that of those whose place of nativity is accurately ascertained the native born are about 68 per cent., while the foreign born is about 32 per cent. This is by no means a large proportion of the latter, remembering that this class have, many of them, no settled home and no one to care for them in the event of loss of reason.

Insane Convicts and Criminal Insane In State Hospitals and Other Institutions in Pennsylvania.

In regarding these there must be recognized the distinction between these two classes, the "criminal insane," being those who, while insane, have committed some criminal act, while "insane convicts" are those who have become insane after conviction and sentence, or while undergoing imprisonment. The former are obviously not necessarily of the criminal class, as before becoming demented their characters may have been unimpeachable.

The aggregate thus within the confines of the various institutions is 180, a number which would seem to demand a separate place of detention for those properly coming under the appellation of the criminal class. Notwithstanding the previous ineffectual efforts upon the part of the committee and your board, once again must the venture be made of a renewed appeal to the Legislature for the establishing of a separate institution devoted to the segregation of the insane convicts.

STATE HOSPITALS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

STATE LUNATIC HOSPITAL, HARRISBURG.

Location.—This hospital is located about two miles northeast of Harrisburg, Dauphin county. It was the earliest hospital in the State, being established by an act of Legislature, April 14, 1845.

Hospital District.—The district for which the hospital was intended is the southern portion of the State, including the counties of Adams, Bedford, Berks, Blair, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Juniata, Lancaster, Lebanon, Mifflin, Perry, Schuylkill and York—sixteen in number. Several of these counties have almshouses, or local asylums, in which are retained chronic or quiet insane. The statistical tables appended to this report show as in the several State hospitals the number retained in these local institutions.

On September 30, 1903, the resident population was 962, of which 499 were males, and 463 females. Admissions during the year, 80 males, 59 females; total, 139. The average number treated during the year was 900.44; maximum number, 999; minimum, 946.

Attendants.—Number of attendants, 97; of employees, 85. Proportion of attendants to average number of patients, 9.

Restraint and Seclusion.—There were under restraint during the year 5, these being thus restrained as matter of self-protection.

Discharges.—There were discharged during the year 86 men, 75 women, of which there were restored 84, improved 20, stationary 9, not insane, 1. Number of deaths, 47.

Absent on parole at close of year, 49.

Attended religious services, 196.

Amusements.—Properly considering amusements as a most important adjunct in the treatment of the insane, careful attention is given this subject and the results give great satisfaction. Music, dancing, stereoptican exhibitions and lectures are used for this end. A peculiar feature is the masquerade ball given annually and participated in by the quiet inmates. The actual benefit derived from this is marked, and the demeanor of the participants might afford a salutary lesson to some assemblages of this nature in the outside world.

Nativity.—There remain in the hospital 952, of which 768 are native born and 121 foreign born, with 73 nativity unknown.

The average cost per capita was $3.75 per week.

STATE HOSPITAL AT DANVILLE, MONTGOMERY COUNTY.

Population of District by Census of 1880. Number of square miles, 14,887. Acreage, 9,507,680.

STATE HOSPITAL FOR INSANE, DANVILLE.

Location.—This hospital is situated about two miles east of borough of Danville, Mountour county; post office address, Danville. This hospital was established in 1872 for the care of indigent insane, being the second for that purpose in the State.

Hospital District.—Intended for the accommodation of the northern district of the State, including the counties of Bradford, Carbon, Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, Columbia, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Lycoming, Monroe, Montour, Northumberland, Pike, Potter, Snyder, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, Union, Wayne and Wyoming.

Of these twenty-one counties all but three have within their limits almshouses, and, in some instances, several, but the care of the insane is restricted to five. Among these, and the most complete, are the institution at Retreat, Luzerne county, a most thoroughly equipped and admirable hospital in itself; and Hillside, Lackawanna county, a hospital that has possessed a most excellent record in the past and still maintains a standard surpassed by no local institution. The former has a population of 479, while the latter carries upon its books 310.

Attendants.—During the year these numbered 116, the employes 91. The proportion of attendants to the average number of patients being a fraction above one to nine.

Admissions.—Number admitted during the year: 139 men, 111 women; total, 250. Total population at end of year, 1,123, of which 591 were men and 532 were women. Average number treated during the year 1,075 plus; maximum number, 1,129; minimum, 1,018.

Discharges.—There were discharged during the year 83 men, 68 women; total, 151; of which those restored numbered 34; improved, 31; stationary, 17; not insane, 1. Number of deaths, 68.

Absent on parole at close of year, 12.

Restraint.—During the year there have been in restraint and seclusion 4, among which is a most dangerous criminal, who, while an inmate, murdered one of the attending physicians.

Attended religious services, 438.

Average per capita cost, $3.73 per week.

Amusements.—Varied in character but abundant. In summer, straw rides, excursions, croquet, etc., and in winter lectures, concerts, stereopticon exhibitions, and various games with parties in each department.

Nurses' Home.—This valuable addition proves itself a most admirable feature, and in conjunction with the two hours each day for rest and recreation, has contributed much to the efficiency of the female attendants.

Nativity.—Remaining in the hospital are 1,123, of which 785 are native born, 256 foreign born, unknown 82.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL FOR INSANE. DIXMONT.

Location.—Eight miles west of Allegheny, at Dixmont, on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad; post office address at Dixmont. Incorporated March 18, 1848, and opened for reception of patients January 18, 1853. In May, 1855, the charter was modified and a grant made by Legislature for extending accommodations for the insane. A rural site was purchased by private contribution, and the building was opened for the reception of patients November 13, 1861. A further supplement was made by act of March, 1886, connecting hospital with State, and requiring the Governor to appoint annually three managers on the part of the State.

Hospital District.—This comprises the counties of Allegheny, Arm-

STATE ASYLUM FOR CHRONIC INSANE, AT SOUTH MOUNTAIN.

Location.—This asylum is located in Lebanon Valley, at South Mountain, in Berks county, about eight miles west of Reading. Post office, Wernersville.

Object.—"The detention, care, treatment and occupation of the indigent chronic insane." In the act establishing the institution, the term "chronic" is defined as those who have been insane for at least one year, and as such, must have been under hospital treatment for at least one year. Hitherto they have been of the "able-bodied, harmless" class, who can be usefully employed. The act founding the asylum was passed June 22, 1891, and the first patients received July 21, 1894, these patients having already been cared for in temporary quarters as provided in the establishing act.

Population.—On September 30, 1903, there were in the asylum, men, 594; women, 203; total, 797. Capacity, 800. During the year the admissions were, men, 24; women, 12; total, 36. Average number, 795; maximum, 804; minimum, 782.

Attendants.—Number during the year, 49; employees, 58. The proportion of attendants to patients based upon average number was 16 to every patient. While this may seem disproportionate, the chronic condition of all the inmates sufficiently explains it.

Discharges.—The number of discharges through the year 1903 has been: men, 26; women, 9; total, 35; of which, improved, 7; stationary, 9; died, 19.

On parole on September 30, 1903, 5.

Under restraint during year, 4.

Attended religious services, 758.

Nativity.—Those remaining in the hospital at close of year numbered 797; of these, 321 native born; 421 foreign born; 55 unknown.

Amusements.—These have been all that could be afforded. Concerts and vaudeville entertainments through the winter months, and picnics and various out-door parties during summer. The fortnightly dances are continued and enjoyed. There have also been in addition observances of Fourth of July and Christmas.

PRIVATE HOSPITALS AND SANATORIA IN PENNSYLVANIA.

PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL FOR INSANE.

Location.—In the Twenty-fourth Ward of Philadelphia, on Market street, about two miles west of the Schuylkill River.

The Pennsylvania Hospital was the first institution in America for the care and treatment of insane, having received its charter from the Colonial Assembly, May 11, 1751. The stated object of this was "to encourage the establishment of an hospital for the relief of the sick poor of the Province, and for the reception and care of lunatics."

In the year 1841, the department of insane in West Philadelphia was opened and still continues the beneficent work under the excellent management that has ever characterized it.

Population.—There remained in the hospital September 30, 1903: men, 191; women, 254; total, 445. During the year, admissions, men, 94; women, 89; total, 183. Average number, 453; maximum, 475; minimum, 439.

Discharges.—Men, 91; women, 101; total, 192; of which restored, 62; improved, 69; stationary, 26. Died, 35.

Attendants during the year, 151; employees, 139. Proportion of attendants to average number of patients, one to three.

Under restraint, 9.

On parole, 3.

Attended religious service, 159.

Nativity.—At close of year of the 445 inmates of the hospital, there were native born, 417; foreign, 28.

Amusements.—These have been varied, embracing during the summer, out-door games such as croquet, lawn tennis, bowling, base ball, cricket, etc.; also gymnastics, calisthenics, pool, billiards and swimming in the admirably constructed swimming pools, etc. Abundant carriage exercise is afforded. During winter months, lectures, illustrated by magic lantern views, reading, in-door games, painting, clay modeling, fancy needle work.

In the month of September the hospital met with a sad loss in the sudden death of Dr. E. E. Josselyn, the second assistant physician in the department for women. Discharging his hospital duties up to the last moment of his life, his exit came with scarce a moment of warning. A man exceedingly warm hearted, frank but genial in manner, and devoted to his work, he succeeded not only in faithfully performing his duties, in gaining the respect and regard of his fellow-officers, but the love of those to whom he had professionally administered.

In the vacant position, Dr. Charles B. Williams is now acting.

FRIEND'S ASYLUM FOR INSANE, FRANKFORD.

Located in Oxford township, one mile west of Frankford, Twenty-third Ward of Philadelphia. Postoffice, Frankford.

The institution was opened May, 1817, by members of the religious Society of Friends, and in 1834 authority was given by the managers and contributors to extend the benefit of the hospital to those of other denominations. In 1845 this action was recinded, but at the close of the following year reconsideration opened the hospital to the reception of insane of all denominations, and this status exists at the present time.

Population.—At present is, men, 59; women, 99; total, 158. Admissions during the year, men, 51; women, 57; total, 108. Average number, 144; maximum, 159; minimum, 132.

Discharges during the year, men, 46; women, 46; total, 92. Of these, restored, 32; improved, 26; stationary, 22. Died, 12.

Attendants.—Number of attendants during year, 75; employes, 80. Based upon average number, the proportion of attendants to insane has been 1.92.

Under restraint, 9.

Paroled at end of year, 6.

Attended religious services, 43.

Nativity.—Native born, 149; foreign, 9.

ST. FRANCIS HOSPITAL, PITTSBURG.

Location.—City of Pittsburg, on Forty-fourth street, near Pennsylvania avenue.

The building devoted to care of insane was completed in 1891, and patients at once admitted. A detailed description has been given in a prior report.

The hospital is under the direction of the religious order of St. Francis, with Sister M. Seraphine in charge as Superintendent. A resident physician is appointed each year.

Population.—At close of year there were in hospital: men, 22; women, 84; total, 145. General average, 85; maximum, 93; minimum, 77.

Discharges during the year: Men, 58; women, 76; total, 134; of which restored, 42; improved, 61; stationary, 24; died, 7.

Admissions during the year: Men, 61; women, 84; total, 145.

Attendants, 18; employes, 14. The attendants are mainly members of a Sisterhood of the Roman Catholic Church, who cheerfully give their valuable and skilled service without pecuniary compensation. Proportion of attendants to average number of patients, 4.7.

Restraint.—Under restraint during the year, 6.

On parole, 1.

Attending religious service, 28.

Nativity.—Native born, 51; foreign, 26.

Amusements.—Vocal and instrumental music, cards, various indoor games, phonographs, dancing and usual evening entertainments of an hospital for insane.

There are on duty two resident physicians and a visiting hospital staff of some of the best alienists and neurologists in Pittsburg.

THE EASTON SANITARIUM.

This institution is a proprietary one for "treatment of nervous disorders and diseases, and for the detention, care and treatment of a limited number of patients suffering from the milder forms of mental disease."

Situated near Easton, Northampton county; post office address, Easton. Proprietor, Dr. C. Spencer Kinney, who resides here and gives his entire time to the interests of the institution and the care of his patients. The sanitarium was opened for the reception of patients in April, 1895, and the treatment is exclusively homeopathic, and is the first institution of that school receiving a license from the Committee on Lunacy.

The location is most admirable, being upon high ground, sheltered by a wooded hill. The building stands upon a terrace facing the river, which is about one-eighth of a mile distant. Neither means nor trouble have been spared in fitting up and adorning the grounds and house. The latter is well equipped, and attractively furnished and divided into single rooms and suites.

Population.—At the close of year the insane number: Men, 4; women, 9; total, 13. Admitted, men, 1; women, 7; total, 8. Average number, 15; maximum, 17; minimum, 13.

Attendants, 18; employes, 12.

Under restraint, none.

On parole, none.

Discharged.—Men, 0; women, 9. Of these, restored, 3; improved, 6; died, 0.

Amusements.—Lawn tennis, croquet, cards, games, boating, driving, entertainments (social and musical), pool, billiards, base ball, foot ball, graphophones, etc.

INWOOD SANITARIUM.

This institution was opened in August, 1898, for the treatment of nervous and mental diseases and is licensed by the Committee on Lunacy to admit and care for twenty insane.

Location.—The sanitarium is situated in a beautiful and healthful spot on a main road between West Conshohocken and Bryn Mawr, being within about ten minutes drive of the former and about twenty minutes of the latter. Post office address, West Conshohocken, Montgomery county, Pennsylvania.

The house, a well built mansion of stone with a slate roof and a large porch, is on elevated ground in a park of fine old trees, through which flows a stream of spring water. Adjacent to the main house is a well-built two-story stone cottage, which is also used for institutional purposes.

Dr. Elizabeth S. Winter, a specialists in treatment of nervous and mental diseases, is the physician and proprietor, and resides upon the premises.

Population.—At the close of the year there were in the sanitarium 14 women. During the year, 18 admitted. Average number, 14; maximum, 16; minimum, 12.

Discharges.—During the year there were discharged 17 women, of whom were restored, 4; improved, 8; stationary, 2; not insane, 3. Died, 0.

Attendants, 13; employes, 7. Proportion of attendants to patients based on average number, 1 plus.

Under restraint, none.

Amusements are such as usual in private sanatoria, such as parlor games, music, good library of miscellaneous character, lawn tennis, croquet, driving and walking.

BURN BRAE, PRIMOS, PENNSYLVANIA.

Location.—A few miles west of Philadelphia, on Central Division of the Philadelphia, West Chester and Baltimore Central Railroad. Post office address, Primos, Delaware county, Pa.

This private hospital is admirably situated and with most attractive grounds. It was opened in 1860 by Dr. Robert A. Given, the first patient being received January 26th of that year.

Population at close of year: Men, 19; women, 12; total, 31. During the year there have been admitted: Men, 12; women, 4; total, 16. Average number, 36; maximum, 36; minimum, 34.

Discharges during the year: Men, 15; women, 4; of which, restored, 6; improved, 8; stationary, 1; died, 4.

Attendants, 20; employes, 23. Proportion of attendants to patients based on average number, 1.8.

Restraint and seclusion, none.

Attended religious service, 19.

Nativity.—All native born.

Absent on parole, one.

Amusements.—This is a quiet hospital, conducted on the family plan; the majority of patients dine at the table of the proprietors. The amusements are driving, walks, excursions, in-door and out-door games, gardening, music and varied entertainments.

Physician in Charge,

Dr. N. S. Yawger.

Assistant Physician,

Dr. Herbert S. Stanton.

Naturally, taking a general view of the field covered by the duties and functions of the committee, the most salient feature is the constant and rapid increase of the insane population of the State. With an increment of from 300 to 500 annually, the palpable need for suitable institutions or buildings wherein may be cared for the helpless unfortunates is a grave question. Could the funds of the State permit at each legislative session the passage of an act establishing a new State hospital at least two years must elapse before the localization, completion, equipment and occupancy of the same. During this interval the increase of the insane population under its present ratio would furnish more than enough patients to fill its wards, and the difficulty would remain unsolved. The hypothesis of such constant increase in the number of State hospitals is one not for a moment to be considered, and the query for which an answer must be found is: What can be done? In the last report presented to your board the suggestion was offered of the adoption of the colony or cottage system, this consisting of the erection upon the grounds of existing institutions, of smaller buildings, where in can be domiciled the patients under a classification more satisfactory than that now maintained. This plan could be carried into effect with a minimum amount of expense, as but slight augmentation of the existing force would be requisite. No new administration building would be necessary, and the buildings to be erected, while made architecturally neat and attractive, would be inexpensive. Comparatively little increase in the medical staff would be essential, the main outlay incurred being that for attendants and working employees. Even this would be less than that required in the management of the larger hospital and therefore need not enter into the computation of increased expenses.

By erecting such buildings, the objection offered to the extension of present hospital plants—that of congregating very large numbers under one roof—would be obviated, and by such means the desired end achieved.

This system has been adopted in Massachusetts and New York, and from those states we receive nothing but words of commendation. Our own hospital at Warren has, to a limited degree, adopted the same in its Hygeia Hall, and its Farm Colony, and the good accomplished by these is the highest criterion of success.

Your committee is much exercised upon this matter of future provision for the insane, deeming it the most vitally important subject coming within its scope.

Several times during the year has the committee been called upon to act in cases in which non-residents of Pennsylvania have been deliberately brought into or sent into the State and abandoned. This breach, both of justice and inter-state comity, possesses no palliative features, and is but the manifestation of intense selfishness and greed, the lightening of the burdens of one state by increasing that of another. In the cases referred to one had actually not the slightest claim upon this State, he never having resided for a day within its bounds, and knowing not an individual among its citizens. The state from which the poor dement had been deported generously consented to receive him if returned, but firmly refused to be responsible for cost of transportation.

Another case was that of a man sent from a city of a neighboring state in the care of an attendant, who suddenly but most conveniently disappeared, leaving the poor stranger to be cared for by the police. Communication with the authorities of the state from which he came succeeded in having him returned, our State again defraying the cost of return. And yet another case, that of a man without friend or kin in this State sent from another state that would practice frugality. Careful investigation disclosed the fact that the legal residence was in a New England State, not, however, the state that foisted him upon Pennsylvania. Correspondence with his own state was entered upon, with the result that the New England state expressed a willingness to accept him if delivered within its boundaries. This was of course all that could be asked, and the man was sent, this State defraying the expenses.

Such cases entail upon the State a heavy expense, without any just reason whatever.

Evincing the very radical alteration in the sentiment of a certain class toward the insane, it is gratifying to record that not for more than two years has the committee been called upon for relief of insane persons under improper or inhuman private detention. Too often this character of detention was the effect not so much of a lack of the ordinary instincts of humanity as from the feeling that characterized an earlier period of society wherein insanity was considered, if not a crime, yet a stigma. As such the poor sufferer was concealed, and thus deprived of comforts and even almost of the necessities of life. The protecting care now given to the dement coupled with the beneficent results of advanced pathological research into affections of the brain, have tended to dissipate such a traditional idea and to bring the poor sufferer within the pale of efficient hospital care.

While it is praiseworthy in the highest degree to exercise all due economy in the expenditure of hospitals for the insane, there should be recognized the danger of transcending the proper limitation, thus carrying frugality into the domain of parsimony. That a certain amount of rivalry should exist among kindred institutions in regard to per capita cost is natural and possibly commendable within proper limitations. But the temptation is great to exhibit a standard of expense so low as to be procured only by an elimination which deprives not, it, is true, of necessities, but, yet, of certain pleasures and comforts that make for their comfort and well being. Not as yet have the hospitals of our State transgressed in this respect; therefore, this line of thought is intended merely as a danger signal, a warning against seeking a low standard of cost at the sacrifice of a high standard of efficiency.

At the legislative session of 1903 there was enacted a bill whereby those addicted to alcoholic drink and intoxicating drugs could be admitted into hospitals for insane for a period not to exceed one year. The commitment of such is safeguarded by such legal measures as will protect the rights of these persons, and with the hospital superintendent is lodged the power to discharge at his discretion. Already have our hospitals opened their doors to this class of applicants, but as yet the time has been too limited to report results. The act, while theoretically most excellent, yet so far as a beneficial outcome is concerned, is in a purely tentative condition. There arises the question of expediency in placing within the wards of an insane hospital, in constant contact and companionship with the maniacal, the melancholic, the paranoic, and the paretic, one who, when removed from the opportunity of alcoholic excesses, is in the enjoyment of his full faculties and, as is frequently the case, of an excellent or even brilliant intellect. What must be the effect upon such an one of his environments?

The training schools of the various hospitals are yielding their admirable results, and furnishing to the wards skilled and expert nurses.

During the year the National Bureau of Immigration has, by its investigation into the foreign element of the hospitals, been of material benefit to the State.

The segregation of the victims of tuberculosis has been made in each hospital according to its individual ability, and doubtless as facilities for this increase there will be to a large extent an elimination of the disease finding so easy a prey among the mentally affected.

The introduction of women nurses into the more quiet male wards and infirmaries of hospitals for insane is about being tried in at least one of our State hospitals and undoubtedly will elicit the same good result as has attended the plan in other communities already having adopted it.

The increased amount of clerical work and correspondence has been ably and promptly accomplished by the clerical force. The record books, a most important feature in office duties, have been accurately attended to, while the examination and filing of commitment papers has been so efficiently performed that on proper demand a history of each case can be produced.

A brief retrospect of matters pertaining to lunacy, and especially to the institutions devoted to the care and treatment of demented, presents many points evoking satisfaction and gratitude. The remarkable efficiency of the hospitals, both public and private; the faithfulness of trustees to the best interests of their respective institutions, the management of which has been markedly exempt from personal or partisan bias; the zeal of the superintendents and medical officers, evincing such a degree of altruism resulting in the well-being and happiness of their patients; the gradual elevation of the standard of attendants; all these demand the highest commendation. The heartiest acceptance of new and advanced theories tending to the restoration or alleviation of their unfortunate charges has characterized our superintendents, and while a generous rivalry has existed there has been complete absence of that narrow jealousy which would deny all credit to the more fortunate colleague who has achieved great success in some especial direction. The gradual extension of employments, and the increased attention to the amusements for the insane, have exercised an influence more beneficial than mere therapeutical treatment, lifting the insane from the soul-crushing introspection attendant upon a life of idleness, and bringing them again in touch with the pursuits and pleasures of their fellow-men.

- Defects yet exist, for not yet have we entered the Utopian realm; but a comparison between the hospital wards of today with those of even a quarter of a century ago affords us just ground for the belief that the curse will in time be wonderfully lightened, and the brain so blighted be moulded into a life of usefulness.
